Commission Reveals Police Scandal In Eighth Report

WICKERSHAM GROUP HITS COURT WORK

Inferior Courts of Nation
Accused of Being Under Control of Politics

MOONEY CASE CITED

Indiscriminate Exercise of Power of Arrest Condoned in Report Today

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(UP)—Throughout the nation scandal marks the work of police, traffic and magistrates' courts, the Wickersham commission told President Hoover in its eighth report entitled "Criminal procedure," issued today by the White House.

"Taking the country as a whole, there has been and continues to be scandal in connection with these inferior courts in noteworthy contrast with the almost uniformly clean record of the superior courts during a century of immersion in politics," the commission concluded, with the exception of one member.

"Apart from all other considerations, arbitrary methods, incompetent magistrates, tribunals governed by petty politics, and slovenly proceedings at the point at which the great mass of the population come in contact with law enforcement give a bad impression of the administration of justice as a whole and most seriously affect respect for and observance of law generally."

Remove Politics

The commission urged that all the courts be taken out of politics. It suggested many changes in methods of procedure—particularly selection of more competent judges, enlargement of their powers in handling cases, simplification of the system of review.

CONFESSED SLAYERS WILL BE RETURNED

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 15.—(UP)—Louis H. Downs and Joseph Gasparich, 17-year-old Oakland high school youths, accused of murder, were returned to Utah after a three-week career of crime, will leave here this afternoon aboard a Western Pacific train for Oakland, Calif., where they will answer to many charges.

The youths confessed they killed William Kohler, Oakland policeman, but claimed they shot in self-defense. They were in custody of two officers, one of whom was patrolman William Hendricks, of Oakland whose police badge saved him from death when the youths fired on him near the outskirts of Oakland, June 28.

The boys were arrested in Beaver, Utah, where, according to officers they tried to steal a car.

Jacobs and West Deny Interest In Machine Case

Statements were made today by Otto Jacobs and Z. B. West Jr., Santa Ana attorneys, denying that they had any connection with slot machine interests or were in San Diego yesterday on business connected with investigation of slot machine cases in that county, as reported in yesterday's issue of The Register.

West made the following statement: "I was not in San Diego on business connected with slot machine affairs, but was in court representing a client on a traffic case. I am not connected with the slot machine interests. I am not representing them in any capacity now and do not intend to do so in the future."

Jacobs' statement was as follows: "I did not advise Chief Howard in connection with slot machine matters and do not represent slot machine interests in any manner. I was not in San Diego in the interest of slot machine cases, but on an appellate court matter."

RUDY VALLEE'S MOTHER DIES IN NEW JERSEY

Radio Crooner at Bedside
When Death Comes After Long Illness

WESTBROOK, Me., July 15.—(UP)—Rudy Vallee's invalid mother, who helped him become the idol of radio's millions, died today of her favorite son at her bedside.

Death came to Mrs. Katherine L. Vallee, 61, shortly before noon, after a gallant three-year struggle against heart disease, high blood pressure and complications.

She had been in a coma more than 36 hours, during part of which time the radio crooner had sat by her bedside and held her hand.

Rudy, married only last week to Fay Webb, actress, had flown here from New York with his younger brother, William, late Monday to comfort the dying mother during her last hours. She brightened when she saw them, but this rally was short lived.

After Father William J. Culbert, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, had administered the last rites of the church that same night, Mrs. Vallee lapsed into a coma from which she never emerged.

Her death had been expected yesterday, but she survived the day and last night. When Dr. Albert d'Arche, the family physician, left the Vallee home this morning, he said the death was imminent.

Rudy, grief-stricken, and was after two almost sleepless nights, was at the bedside. With him were his father, Charles A. Vallee, retired druggist; his sister, Mrs. Kathleen Vallee Linneville, and his 22-year-old brother, William.

LIE HURLED AT POPE PIUS XI BY MUSSOLINI

Fascist Controversy With Vatican Aggravated By Latest Statement

ROME, July 15.—(UP)—Alleged "lies" in the recent encyclical of Pope Pius XI on the Fascist state and its controversy with the Holy See were protested in a statement issued by the directorate of the Fascist party.

The directorate, meeting under the presidency of Premier Benito Mussolini, issued its anticipated reply to the Pope's scathing encyclical sent secretly by trusted messenger to Paris for distribution to the world.

The reply protested alleged "lies" in the encyclical which "defamed the grand baillia (youths) organization for which thousands of Fascists are giving their activities."

The directorate urged all loyal Fascists to work for the success of the baillia. Plans for the development of the baillia youth organization were approved for the coming year.

Three major declarations were outlined in the Fascist directorate's statement with reference to Pope Pius' encyclical. They were:

1. Protests of criticism of the black shirt's oath.
2. The "indignant rejection" of the Pope's statement that the Masons would return to power in the Fascist party.
3. Protests against the alleged "lies" defaming the grand baillia organization.

In amplifying the first of these points, the statement said the "Fascist party is not a party like others, but is a fighting organization which, having made the revolution, feel its serious duty to defend it."

In addition to these significant pronouncements, the Fascist directorate decided "the first great mobilization of Fascist forces shall take place between the Piave and Tagliamento rivers in Thetennia district" soon.

The date of the gathering is to be announced only 48 hours before the mobilization is to take place.

"The mobilization will demonstrate the swiftness with which the Fascist masses can be concentrated in any part of Italy's territory," the directorate statement said, "for any emergency."

The mobilization, incidentally, considering the section of territory in which it is to be held, apparently is meant as a warning to Jugoslavia that Italy aside from her regular army is able to count big all-Fascist army if the necessity arises.

The reported movement will involve about 50,000 men, it was asserted, mostly from the party's youthful organizations.

Gives Reason For Increase In Crime Wave

SEATTLE, July 15.—(UP)—Lowering mentality of police officers in larger cities, and a smarter class of criminals, combined with politically controlled parole boards and inefficient prison methods were named by Judge Kenneth Mackintosh, member of the Wickersham crime commission, as the major reasons for the increased crime wave throughout the United States.

Remark that the present trend of crime is toward organization Mackintosh declared that men of more intelligence and ability are attracted to crime and its huge profits, while officers who must hunt them down are not imbued with so much integrity and intelligence.

OPEN HEARINGS ON RAILROADS' RATE INCREASE

Depleted Earnings and Financial Distress Plea is Made to Commission

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(UP)—The nation's railroads, opening their fight for increased freight rates, brought to the interstate commerce commission today a story of depleted earnings and of financial distress which they said had lessened their ability adequately to serve the public.

Shipping Board Says Decrease Rate Is Harmful

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(UP)—The United States shipping board today asked permission of the interstate commerce commission to intervene in the Pacific coast railroad rate decrease case.

The board said that a decrease in rates allowed Pacific coast railroads in July, 1930, will wreck coastwise shipping on the Pacific.

The railroads recently asked a rehearing in the case. It was that action which gave the shipping board an opportunity to protest.

Abandonment Of Dam Is Advised

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(UP)—A special board of two engineers and a geologist, assigned to investigate the huge Mulholland dam above Hollywood has determined the structure rests on a "live" fault and should be abandoned, it was learned authoritatively today.

The dam is visible in the hills from a main section of the Hollywood business district and looks down upon many homes in the film colony.

Texas Governor To Aid Oil Men

AUSTIN, Tex., July 15.—(UP)—Foreseeing disaster to a giant industry, Governor Ross Sterling today pleaded with the Texas legislature to design laws curbing the activities of persons who have wasted the state's vast stores of oil.

In a terse, brief message, Sterling set the legislators about the task of pumping new life into the veins of an industry sapped by overproduction and attendant low prices.

HUNGARIAN DUO BEGINS FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC

Leave Harbor Grace Before
Noon on Non-stop
Trip to Budapest

HARBOR GRACE, N.F., July 15.—(UP)—Another attempt to fly the Atlantic began today when George Endres and Alexander Magyar, Hungarians, left with the intention of flying to Budapest. The start was at 11:25 a. m. E. S. T.

The flight differed from numerous other attempts chiefly in that it was undertaken, not merely for the adventure or to advertise a motor oil or tooth paste, but as political propaganda.

The plane is named Justice for Hungary and the object of the flight, as explained by its backer, Emil Szalay, a meat packer of Flint, Mich., is to "call attention to Hungary's wrongs, particularly under the Trianon treaty."

Conditions for the start of the flight were favorable. The fliers said they expected to make the crossing in 26 hours from Harbor Grace.

FOUR FILM WORKERS HURT IN ACCIDENT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 15.—(UP)—Four employees of the Fox film corporation were injured, two of them seriously, early today when their automobile collided with another machine and overturned.

The film workers were returning home from location when their machine ran into a car driven by Miss Norma Gregg, 52, a musician, at Sunset boulevard and Vine street.

Earl Rettig, 25, assistant director, suffered a possible skull fracture, and James Smith, 43, a wardrobe man, was treated for painful cuts and bruises.

Another assistant director, Louis Breslow, 31, and Daniel E. Mosier, 29, wardrobe man, received only minor injuries, as did Miss Gregg.

WILL ROGERS
says:

CLAREMORE, Okla., July 15.—[To the Editor of The Register:] Well, yesterday was a great day for Gatty and Post. It was just an ordinary day for Claremore, but it was a big thing for those boys. They never saw a town like ours. We built a real airport in four days just to welcome 'em. I was with 'em in Tulsa last night and flew over here in the "Winnie Mae" with them today. It's the combination of the two that make 'em so great. I'd bet on 'em going around the world endways and cross both poles. In all the excitement and rushing about, you know when they sleep? At the banquets. They said if it wasn't for banquets they wouldn't have any time to sleep at all. Smart fellows.

Yours,

ALBERT FALL'S PLANS SECRET FOR PRESENT

Reporters Unable to Locate
Him and Believe May Be on Way to Jail

EL PASO, Texas, July 15.—(UP)—Secrecy today surrounded the plans of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, to go to the New Mexico state penitentiary to serve his sentence of a year and a day for accepting a bribe while he was in the Harding cabinet.

Newspaper reporters followed trails which indicated the former secretary may have started on the trip to the prison at Santa Fe but members of Fall's family declared he was asleep.

An automobile careened out of the Fall driveway at 9:30 going at a high speed and with curtains drawn. It prompted reporters to search highways for the automobile in the belief that the former secretary had left his comfortable mansion here for the prison.

NEW MAYOR TAKES OFFICE IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—(UP)—Robert H. Harlin, prominent in political and labor circles here for many years, today formally assumed his duties as mayor of Seattle, succeeding Frank Edwards, who was ejected from the office by a recall election Monday.

Harlin was elected by the city council to be mayor for the remainder of Edwards' term. He was inducted after a brisk fight, during which the council voted five to three in favor of him.

Supporters of Councilman Otto A. Case, rival candidate for mayor, were jammed in a council chamber during the induction ceremony and Harlin was greeted with mingled jeers and applause.

NEW CONVENT FOR PASADENA PLANNED

PASADENA, Calif., July 15.—(UP)—Sisters of the Sacred Heart convent of Los Angeles, will purchase the palatial Flintridge Biltmore hotel here and open it as a school for girls during the fall, Bishop John J. Cantwell of the Catholic diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego announced today.

The hotel has been through several unprofitable seasons. It was built five years ago, and was said to have cost $2,000,000. The Catholic organization is paying $250,000 for it.

POLICE ARE POWERLESS UNDER LAW

Two Machines Confiscated
By Sheriff and One Operator is Under Arrest

HEARING ON JULY 24

Petition Forbidding Chief
Howard to Arrest Operators Granted Foust

SANTA ANA today was confronted with a situation whereby its police officers were powerless to act against devices which had been ordered closed by Chief Floyd Howard, under an opinion of City Attorney Clyde Downing declaring they were illegal, as a result of a temporary restraining order issued by Judge G. R. Freeman on a petition of Henry Foust. The order is returnable of July 24.

At the same time action was being taken by Sheriff Logan Jackson against operators in Santa Ana township, with two machines confiscated, the operator of one of these machines in custody and a warrant being sought for the arrest of the other.

With a Riverside county judge on the bench and with Anaheim attorneys inflating the action, the Santa Ana chief of police late yesterday afternoon was restrained temporarily from confiscating slot machines in this city or arresting operators or owners, which he is commanded to do by the laws of the state of California.

The temporary restraining order was issued by Superior Judge G. R. Freeman of Riverside, who was on the bench here for two days and who today had been replaced by Superior Judge H. G. Ames. Judge Ames had been on the bench in the Riverside court to hear a new trial motion which Judge Freeman was disqualified to hear, it is said.

Attorneys in the case were McFadden and Holden of Anaheim. The restraining order was issued at about 4:40 p. m. yesterday.

Riverside County Acting Attorney of Riverside county is riding that region of slot machines, although as yet no cases have reached the superior court in the Murietta township and an appeal probably will take it to the (Continued on Page 2)

ALLEGED MURDERER VICTIM OF BULLET

CHICAGO, July 15.—(UP)—A man identified by police as Edgar "Spiker" Smith, who is wanted in Waukegan, Wis., on a charge of murder, was found shot to death today in an abandoned automobile on the south side.

The finding of Smith's bullet-riddled body came several hours after a south side negro reported to police that two men had shot another to death in front of his house and driven away with the body in a car.

Smith was under an appeal bond and with Danny Stanton had been fighting for months against being extradited to Waukegan to stand trial on charges of killing Jack Zuta, a north side gang leader.

Dorothy Webb, a screen actress, was fined $100, with $75 suspended, on the same charge, as was a man who gave his name as Rhea J. H. Cowan of Los Angeles.

Deputy sheriffs declared that a neighbor of Harlan's on Topanga beach complained of noise late at night in Harlan's beach cottage.

superior court. The district attorney here said today that several complaints had been issued and that the owners of the majority of the machines had removed them already.

No restraining order to prevent action against slot machine owners has been granted or requested in Riverside county, so far as could be learned today.

It is believed that Judge Freeman's action here yesterday is an exceedingly rare instance in which a court has issued an order to restrain an officer of the law from preventing violation of the gambling laws, a similar one having been in Cuyahoga county, Ohio, where a court issued a similar order restraining a sheriff from taking action against gambling. In this case, which resulted in a contempt citation, the higher court made the following statement in overruling the citation:

"It is said that the judge did not intend to issue an injunction; that he intended to make it appear only that an injunction was issued. Was this to be a subterfuge, or was it an injunction?"

Values Machines at $100,000. In appearing before Judge Freeman, McFadden was representing H. T. Foust of Santa Ana, who claims to own 60 machines here. The extent to which gambling devices have been taking money from Santa Ana citizens was indicated by the fact that Foust's petition valued his business at $100,000.

The petition declared that Foust and the merchants in whose stores the machines have operated split the profits on a 50-50 basis.

Foust named Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard and the city council in the petition. They are ordered to appear in court on July 24 at 2 p. m., at which time a hearing will be held to determine whether the restraining order shall become permanent.

The petition stated that Foust had been notified to stop operation of the machines in Santa Ana, that removal of the device had been threatened and that arrest of Foust and merchants in whose stores machines are located had been threatened and would be carried out unless the court issued the restraining order.

Action Taken. Howard warned operators of the devices that they no longer would be tolerated after the city council had taken action to rescind the licensing ordinance and after City Attorney Clyde Downing and District Attorney Sam Collins had concurred in an opinion that they are illegal.

The basis of Foust's petition was the assertion that, pursuant to city ordinance 658, section 52a, he has paid to the city $40 per year per machine in license and that the licenses will not expire until January 1, 1932. He claimed that he was conducting his slot machine business in accordance with all laws of California and ordinances of Santa Ana. He asserted that action of the defendants would destroy his business without authority or due process of law.

Sheriff Starts Drive. Sheriff Logan Jackson's drive in Orange county against slot machines which have been declared illegal by Santa Ana City Attorney Clyde Downing, in an opinion which met the approval of District Attorney Sam Collins, opened in earnest today and before noon had resulted in the confiscation of two machines and one arrest.

The man arrested is W. J. Johnson, employee of the Segerstrom Brothers service station at Greenville. He was brought to the county jail. The slot machine in the service station was confiscated as was one at the confectionery store of "Red" Bailey, at Santa Ana Gardens. Bailey was not present when officers walked into his place and no arrest was made there.

The arresting officers, Under-sheriff C. W. Riggle and Deputy Merle Dean, returned to Santa Ana after the arrest and confiscations and immediately took up the case with the district attorney's office. Complaints against the Segerstrom brothers and Bailey were expected to be issued this afternoon, officers reported.

Violate Law. The complaints will allege that the men have violated section No. 330-2 of the state law against the operation of slot machines.

Johnson, in a statement made to The Register, stated soon after his arrest that when he first heard that the slot machines were illegal that he took the machine down from its stand in the service station, but that an employee of the slot machine interests came to his place and convinced him that the illegality of the machines concerned Santa Ana only and not the county, so he put the machine back on his stand, ready for operation.

"Put it back up. Everything's o. k.," Johnson said he was told by the employee who called on him. "We'll let you know in plenty of time if there is any action taken that affects you," the man is said to have stated.

"I could see no reason for going out and warning all the proprietors of slot machines in the county," Sheriff Logan Jackson said today. "We are going to enforce the law to the letter and I think the result today will bear me out in that," he said.

A restraining order served on the chief of police and the members of the Santa Ana city council, forbidding these officials from interfering with the play of slot machines in no way affects Sheriff Jackson and his men, and the drive against the machines in the county will be continued, Under-

politics and of insisting that appointments be made on the ground of conspicuous fitness alone, that no appointing power will think of choosing a judge or magistrate on any other basis," the commission stated.

Seek Better Judges. Its analysis of the situation in the inferior courts contained the severest indictment of existing instrumentalities of justice. It pointed out that the chief contact of the average citizen with justice was through petty cases and it recommended that these courts be manned by strong judges and conducted with finality.

"In too many cities little or no provision is made for men of the caliber demanded for the work to be done," the commission said.

"Too often the judges are chosen at elections for short terms, are compelled to campaign for nominations and election, and thus are subjected to politics.

"The short tenure, the mode of choice, the want of dignity in the position, and the manner of compensation very generally by fees, lend themselves to a low person- nel which for the most part made these tribunals petty in fact as well as in name.

"Nowhere is a proper organization more called for.

"With modern conditions of transportation there is no need of a magistrate at every man's back door."

Arrests are made indiscriminately, the commission protested. It noted the advisability of establishing administrative agencies to consider traffic cases. Certainly a system of summonses should be substituted for arrests in these minor cases, it concluded.

"Indiscriminate exercise of the power of arrest is one of the most reprehensible features of American criminal justice," the report asserted.

MOONEY-BILLINGS CASE "SHOCKING". WASHINGTON, July 15.—(UP)—The working of the law as revealed in the Mooney-Billings case, which was cited as a reason for revision in court procedure for trials, was called "shocking to one's sense of justice" in the report of the Wickersham commission today.

"Motions for new trials upon the ground of after discovered evidence, or upon evidence of perjury committed by material witnesses on the trial discovered after judgment, in some jurisdictions have been held to be inadequate to prevent injustice.

"This was peculiarly manifest in the famous Mooney case in California, where, upon appeal to the Supreme court of the state from the judgment of conviction of murder and an order of the trial court denying motion for a new trial, that court held that a new trial could not be granted upon matter not appearing in the record, even though the new matter consisted of evidence charging perjury on the part of a material witness for the state and although the Attorney General stipulated that the motion might be granted.

"Further application made to the trial court in the nature of an application for common law writ of coram nobis, upon the ground that the prosecuting attorney had been guilty of fraud in withholding from the trial court information impeaching the testimony of certain witnesses for the state, also was denied upon the ground that under the California practice the court had no power to grant such a motion.

"The supreme court of the state held there was no judicial remedy open in such case. The only remedy was the exercise of executive clemency.

"Such a state of the law is shocking to one's sense of justice."

In discussing the Mooney-Billings case, the report did not refer to an exhaustive study of the case said to have been presented to the sub-committee investigating lawlessness upon the part of officers. The report of that committee has not yet been made public.

It is understood that Carl Stern and Walter Pollock, investigators for the committee, wrote a report of several hundred pages on the Mooney-Billings case, which the commission considered, but decided it would take no action. The report was headed by Judge W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, who is said to have the Stern-Pollock report in his possession.

made to refrain from appropriating funds for building the third.

Negotiations for a large foreign credit remained deadlocked because the bankers made their consent dependent on an inter-governmental accord, which hitherto has run against the stone wall of the French political demands. Germany's present course appeared to be one of "self-help" with rigid internal economic measures in force to pull her out by her own bootstraps.

The newspaper Tageblatt published an unconfirmed report that Paris was considering inviting Chancellor Heinrich Brüning and Foreign Minister Julius Curtius to make a flying trip to Paris today or tomorrow to participate in the conversations there with foreign heads of Great Britain and the United States.

Meanwhile, from government officials to shop clerks, not to mention the army of unemployed men wandering the streets of Berlin the population of the German capital suffered from individual and mass nervousness. The atmosphere, despite the apparent tranquillity—or rather absence of violence—was surcharged with fear.

One incident alone, witnessed by a United Press correspondent, is sufficient to emphasize the "jum-piness" of the people. It occurred on the Bender bridge, in the center of the residential district.

A great crowd of people suddenly ran to the middle of the bridge, where muffled cries gave evidence of a struggle.

"What is it—a revolution?" some asked. The incident, it was discovered, after the correspondent had fought his way through the excited mob, was caused by a heat-maddened cat which had bitten a traffic policeman. But at the slightest disturbance there are those who are ready to cry "revolution."

Crowds remain in front of the savings and commercial banks, discussing their affairs with some bitterness. A typical comment is that "it is an outrage that old women should be standing here in this weather vainly waiting to withdraw their life's savings, while the rich have succeeded in pushing their money and securities to safety abroad."

Anaheim Council Approves Plans. The Anaheim city council has approved a recommendation made by the city planning commission to make improvements in a subdivision at Center and Lincoln streets, east of Villa Place. Maps prepared by W. B. Brady, civil engineer, were presented showing the proposed changes in lines of lots to provide an alley in the rear of the lots.

Dr. J. H. Gambrell, Fall's physician, was called to the home this morning.

Returning from the house, he told reporters that Fall was some weaker and he was sure the trip would not be started today on account of his condition.

The belief grew however, that Fall will make the trip to the penitentiary by automobile instead of by train.

There are no through trains from El Paso to Santa Fe and part of the trip would have to be made by the trains were used.

It is believed that in making the 360 mile trip by automobile, Fall would stop at the home of some of his friends in New Mexico for rest periods.

"I won't tell of any of our plans," Mrs. Fall declared. "It is of no interest to the public how or when Mr. Fall goes to prison."

Fall would not talk either of his plans for the journey. He awaits mainly the time when he must start serving his sentence soon.

"I'll go through with it, but I don't know if it will get me down. I wish I could work in the penitentiary like other convicts but I'm not physically able to do that," Fall said.

the railroad petitions for a 15 per cent general increase in the freight rates and charges began with the main hearing room crowded with auditors.

Dr. Julius H. Parmelee, director of the bureau of railway economics, was the first witness for the carriers. He said that despite the most rigorous economy and greatest operating efficiency the railroads had not been able to make a fair living during the past decade.

Henry W. Biele, acting as general counsel for the railroads, before putting on his first witness, said the railroads had amended their original petition for a 15 per cent general freight rate increase to except coal and coke. The railroads desire to maintain existing differentials on coal and coke.

Parmelee said if all factors remained equal, fixed charges in 1931 would be earned only 1.27 times.

elimination of the fee system, and abandonment of the frequent practice of trying to make a criminal out of a traffic law violator.

The Mooney-Billings case in California was cited as a "shocking" example of the crudity of the law in preventing the reopening of a case after it once has been decided. The report deplored the system which prevented both the defendants convicted of murder in that case from getting a new trial on evidence developed after their conviction—merely because the evidence was not related to that brought out during the original trial.

As a primary recommendation with reference to all courts, the commission called for a changed attitude on the part of both the legal profession and the public as to the choice, tenure and personnel of the bench.

"The public must be thoroughly conscious of the need of removing the administration of justice from

Stability in 1931

There had been some trouble. Santa Ana needed a bank in 1886 that it could depend upon, have confidence in.

The first directors, men who had founded and helped make the town, resolved that the First National Bank would be a stable and safe bank above all other considerations.

That policy has never changed its complexion and never will!

The scope of our service has changed. The First National is modern to the last minute. It meets changing human problems, commercial advances, and studies carefully every phase of Orange County life and new conditions.

But the inherent stability is always there, more inflexible than the practically impregnable walls of our safety vaults!

made to refrain from appropriating funds for building the third.

Negotiations for a large foreign credit remained deadlocked because the bankers made their consent dependent on an inter-governmental accord, which hitherto has run against the stone wall of the French political demands. Germany's present course appeared to be one of "self-help" with rigid internal economic measures in force to pull her out by her own bootstraps.

The newspaper Tageblatt published an unconfirmed report that Paris was considering inviting Chancellor Heinrich Brüning and Foreign Minister Julius Curtius to make a flying trip to Paris today or tomorrow to participate in the conversations there with foreign heads of Great Britain and the United States.

Meanwhile, from government officials to shop clerks, not to mention the army of unemployed men wandering the streets of Berlin the population of the German capital suffered from individual and mass nervousness. The atmosphere, despite the apparent tranquillity—or rather absence of violence—was surcharged with fear.

One incident alone, witnessed by a United Press correspondent, is sufficient to emphasize the "jum-

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

When you seem to be just holding on through the dark and struggling desperately hard to keep your faith in God and in yourself, it may comfort you to hear that one of our greatest students of life maintains as the verdict of a remarkably wide experience that "religion comes by induction; it is a byproduct of the pursuit of excellence; it arises from deep immersions in effort, in struggle, in suffering and in joy."

Cease worrying about where you are going to land intellectually and spiritually. Pin your faith on God and strive to do well the task which confronts you each day. At length you will be able to say, "I have fought a good fight; I have kept the faith," and your dearest one will greet you at the gate of Paradise.

CLAIMS PEOPLE NOT GRATEFUL FOR BLESSINGS

The appearance of Coleman Cox, nationally known speaker and writer, caused more than 200 members of the Santa Ana Rotary, Kiwanis and Exchange clubs and guests to fill to capacity the banquet hall of the Green Cat cafe yesterday noon.

Cox, who is known as the Elbert Hubbard of the west, was forced to pause a number of times while delivering his speech, owing to the prolonged applause and laughter that greeted his brilliant quips and sparkling bits of humor. "You men," he declared, pointing to the audience, "go to church on Sunday, sing hymns, pray with all your might—God to help you with your problems, repent of your sins, and then go blithely on your way home—probably to set another batch of home brew."

"Men, your God has given you everything that makes life worth living—health, happiness, friends (I know you have friends or you wouldn't be here), happy homes and all that you could desire. What are you going to show for your gifts? None at all. You always want something else, something you haven't got. I'm always happy; I have everything in the world I want, and yet there is no man in the world who gives more of what he has away than I do."

"Men fail because it is easier to fail than to succeed. Success means hard work. I've been knocking the 'off' the word can't for the past 20 years. I hear many say that they can't succeed because they were born of poor parents. This is no reason, nor is it an excuse. I know of no man who was born of rich parents whom I would call a success. They have merely inherited the fruits of their father's success. I doubt very much if Edison Ford or young Rockefeller came to me for a job if I would give them one."

Excuses for Failure

"Others offer the excuse for failure that they have had no college education. If I had a son I would want to give him an education, but is this a reason for failure? No! I was born in Kentucky of the poorest people in the world. I never got farther in school than the third reader. I worked as a 'devil' in a printing office."

"Booze got me down. I got lower than any creature on God's green earth. I was in a padded cell, I was in jail, I begged dimes on the street, I was in the gutter, bent over with the curse of booze, I had attacks of delirium tremens. I was the worst social, moral, mental and physical wreck that ever lived. They told me I couldn't come back—but I did. Men, there is nothing on this earth that is impossible, if you have the determination to do it, with the help of God."

"I met a man on the streets in San Francisco 20 years ago and I asked him for a dime. He looked at me and said he would see me in hell before he'd give it to me and sincerely advised me to go jump in the bay. The man was one that I had once had in my employ. I sat down on a step and started thinking about myself—what a wreck and failure I was, and yet I was guilty of no crime but drink. I have never taken a drink from that day to this."

Can Beat Booze

"Today I am 60 years old, after having been drunk for 20 years. The other day I took a medical examination and passed as well as a man 15 years younger. It can be done."

Cox talked to penitentiaries, schools, clubs and various organizations all over the United States. I've tried to help other men see the light. You know, life is just a shopping tour—everything we see has its price tag. You'll be just as happy as you make others happy. You'll be just as successful as you make others successful. You'll smile just as much as you make others smile."

"I am credited with knowing more famous men than any other man in the world, other than Will Rogers. I can count as my personal friends, Edison, Ford, Calvin Coolidge, the late Burbank, and a host of others. I make more money per word when I write than any other man in the world, and yet I used to be a failure. It can be done. I have the pleasure of knowing that I have made a success of over 145 men who were down and out. I've taken them out of jails and gutters and made men of them."

"We make wrecks of ourselves because we worry over business. We go to church and pray; we ask God to do things for us that we have no right to, things that we ought to do ourselves. If someone came to you with prayers, time after time, without helping them selves a bit, would you be inclined to help them? I don't. Here's an example. Ten years ago two noted economists engaged eight experts to make a survey of conditions. The experts, in their report, held out little hope for business, their predictions were calamitous. From the date the predictions were made, business began to pick up and was in a sound condition for many years. Pessimists are due for a rude awakening."

Put Pep in Life

"There has been lots of depression before. You can see life as you want to. If you men would take home some of the pep you get at these service club meetings you would be much better off. I belong to every organization possible, except the Knights of Columbus, who barred me because I was a Mason, and the Ku Klux Klan, who barred me because I couldn't ride a horse. If you are a failure, it is because you have elected to be one. Edison resents being called a famous man. He says that anyone who worked as hard as he did could accomplish the same things."

Cox closed his talk with the recitation of a poem, "I Know Something Good About You," pointing out that life would be more worth while if people would tell others that they knew something good about them and forgot the bad they knew."

W. D. Upshaw, congressman from Georgia, was a surprise guest at the meeting. He made a brief talk, telling that he would be in Santa Ana in the near future to deliver some temperance addresses and complimented the city on securing John Brown for an evangelistic campaign. He was impressed with the beauty of the city, he stated.

Lucille Lambert and Carolyn Wells, pupils of Margaret Ketchum, danced two tap dances. Margaret Ketchum also gave a dancing number. They were introduced by Charles Swanner, who was in charge of the entertainment.

Presiding over the meeting was James Tucker, president of the Rotary club. Lester Tubbs, president of the Exchange club, and Charles Walker, president of the Kiwanis club, were introduced.

MRS. FETHER IS FREED ON WRIT HABEAS CORPUS

The iron doors of the Orange County jail, which closed on Mrs. Edna Fether, 30, Downey society matron Monday afternoon when she was sentenced to serve five days in jail on a speeding charge, swung the other way, last night, freeing her—for the time being at least.

Mrs. Fether was freed from the jail on a writ of habeas corpus, procured through the efforts of her attorney D. C. Wettlin, and signed last night by Superior Judge George W. Freeman.

The writ is returnable before Judge Homer G. Ames, on July 17, at 2 p. m. and Judge Freeman placed her bail at $500, which was readily met by her mother-in-law, Mrs. E. N. Smith, reported wife of a high official of the Standard Oil company of California.

Mrs. Fether's release from jail was held up for several hours yesterday afternoon after Attorney Wettlin had made out the necessary papers, because of the fact that a superior court judge could not be found. Judge Freeman was finally located at Huntington Beach.

Attorney Wettlin was brought in to the case yesterday after reported attempts had been made by friends of the woman to free her failed. Even a call to Governor James Rolph and Superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, Raymond Cato, were made.

The writ procured by Attorney Wettlin was obtained on the grounds that Mrs. Fether was not arrested in the Santa Ana township and therefore Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison did not have jurisdiction in her case.

She was arrested on July 1, on the Newport highway. Whether the arrest was made in this township or in the Tustin township will be the legal point to be battled when the case comes up before Judge Ames.

Wettlin claims that his client was arrested in Tustin township, the borderline of which comes to the Newport road where it meets the Santa Ana township line, leaving room for doubt as to just where Mrs. Fether was arrested. She was charged with speeding 54 miles an hour in a 40 mile zone and pleaded guilty to the charge.

Mrs. Bushman Of Villa Park Dies

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Bushman, 52, of Villa Park, passed away last evening at the Santa Ana Valley hospital. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Gilgill funeral establishment and the time of the funeral is to be announced later.

Mrs. Bushman is survived by her husband, George E. Bushman, two sons, Claude and Harold, of Ventura; one sister, Mrs. Marie Johnson of Marshall, Mich.; five brothers, John Van Horn of Chula Vista, Fred Van Horn of Oakes, N. D.; Frank Van Horn of Hecla, S. D.; Will Van Horn, Marshall, Mich.; Edwin Van Horn of Battle Creek, Mich.

Alleges Husband Partied Too Much

Hollywood parties played a large part in the divorce complaint filed today by Lola F. Dossett, who seeks separation from Phant M. Dossett.

The complaint states that Dossett frequented these movie colony affairs and that he often was drunk. Later they moved to Anaheim, and for the past six months Dossett has been drunk daily, the complaint said. Mrs. Dossett asked custody of minor children and $12 a week for their support. They were married in 1923 and separated on the Fourth of July, the complaint said.

Arrest Man For Beer Possession

Charged with having 11 bottles of beer in his possession, which officers reported they found in an automobile, Frank Romero, 28, of 1006 Logan street, was arrested by Officers Murray and Murillo last night.

A search of his home made by police failed to locate any more liquor. He was released on his own recognizance to appear in court this afternoon.

Steve Hatfield, of Escondido, was arrested here last night by Santa Ana police officers on a drunk charge. He was lodged in the county jail.

HAGEN REVEALS OLD GOLFING WIZARDRY

TORONTO, Ont., July 15.—(UP)—The wizardry that Walter Hagen has perfected in his long years of competition again has come to the fore to make him a champion. Before 10,000 persons, Hagen drove and putted his way over the Mississauga golf course yesterday, lifted the ball from treacherous lies and showed an amazing golf perfection to defeat Percy Alliss, British professional, in the 36-hole playoff for the Canadian Open golf championship.

Hagen had to be a star to win. He shot a dazzling 68 on the last 18, four under par, and then was able to win by only one stroke, the final score for the 36 holes being Hagen 141 and Alliss 142. They finished the regular round Saturday with 282 apiece.

... and try this commonsense habit for one week

Fast eating, like that reported here, is just an everyday performance in thousands of restaurants in thousands of American cities! You're probably no exception yourself.

No wonder so many of us are "stomach conscious!" No wonder we're famous as a nation for "nervous indigestion," stomach distress, pills after meals . . .

Just naturally, doctors say, this habit of fast eating works against us.

Nervous relaxation and a sufficient flow of saliva are necessary to good digestion. Saliva is not only a digestant in itself, but it stimulates the flow of digestive juices in the stomach.

No—we don't claim that Wrigley's will cure chronic indigestion. But we do know that thousands of people have found that Wrigley's after meals is a definite aid to digestion.

Biochemists say they're right! They've demonstrated that Wrigley's helps to relax nervous tension. And as we all know, it promotes a beneficial flow of saliva. Thus it aids in offsetting the bad effects of fast eating.

We suggest seriously that Wrigley's after meals is a commonsense habit—and an enjoyable one. Start today and try it for one week. We know you'll see a difference! After lunch—take your change in Wrigley's.

All statements in this advertisement are based on scientific research conducted by a nationally known biochemist connected with the medical faculty of a great American university.

1 Wrigley's DOUBLE MINT—flavor that only the world's finest peppermint, double distilled, can give. (Do not confuse with Wrigley's Spearmint)

2 Wrigley's SPEARMINT—the full, refreshing flavor of fresh spearmint—the finest grown. (Do not confuse with Wrigley's Double Mint)

ORANGE COUNTY, SOUTHLAND MOURNS DEATH OF BUSINESS LEADER CHARLES S. HARDY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 15.—Orange county and all of Southern California is mourning today the death of Charles S. Hardy, superintendent of the Santa Margarita ranch and one of the most picturesque figures in the Southland. Ruggedly honest, just in his dealings he was the typical American who has won his way from poverty to the millionaire class.

It was this rugged honesty that led him to force newspapers who reported the rumor to deny the story that he had sold the Santa Margarita ranch to Al Capone, Chicago gangster, to be used as a hide-away and station in his alleged Pacific coast operations.

Forces Denial
In forcing the denial of this story, a denial that was made by all publications with the exception of a nationally known magazine, Hardy said:

"Whoever buys this ranch, if it is ever sold, will have to show who he is and what he is going to do with it. The owners of this property realize their obligations to California. Al Capone could not buy it if he had the necessary money."

His honesty and business ability ranked him among the most successful men in the history of the west. It was Hardy who founded the San Diego Packing company and built it into one of the greatest wholesale packing concerns ever organized this side of the Sierra Nevada mountains. His cattle browsed on a thousand hills. His packing products out-sold those of the big packing houses. He was one of the half dozen big packing house men that successfully defied the beef trust until they poured millions into his lap and took over his San Diego packing plant.

Active at Ranch
His herds in the hills he still maintained and up to a few days prior to his death he was in active management of the 244,000-acre ranch, having a controlling interest in the thousands of fine white-face cattle that roamed the ranch. His stock was famous and he raised his calves from the herd after the old fashioned method now fast passing with the west.

He could handle a stock market deal and plan his campaign against the packing trust and the stock manipulators as he watched his Mexican herders and rode with them. If he ever made business mistakes, they escaped being recorded on the ledgers.

Ruled Domain
Over this vast domain that stretches along 40 miles of the beautiful Southern California coast and runs back over the foothills range, he ruled like a feudal lord. Firm, he was, but democratic and kindly, loved and feared by his hundreds of employees. Generous as a spender, liberal, until it came to a business deal and then his wide experience and keen sense of true values carried him through triumphant.

He knew when a stray cow came through the fences or when one marked with the ranch brand strayed away. When he sent stock to the market or sold it on the range as he most commonly did, he got top prices and delivered top stuff, true to what he claimed it, whether grass fed or grain.

He saw the cattle business in California turn from scrub stock to fine blooded range stuff. He knew almost every man in his employ personally and knew the ability of his men. He knew when he wanted Pedro, or Juan or Julio for a particular job.

Business Power
At the offices of the company in San Francisco the board of directors relied implicitly on Charles S. Hardy. At the ranch the herders and the farmers and the orchardists, knew what was expected of them by this man who handled the last and the biggest ranch in the state with one exception. A ranch whose business ranged from ming claybreds to shipping oranges.

Rather aloof in his reception of strangers he was a warm and loyal friend. Suffering from kidney trouble for some years past, he never complained and was as active as a youth, spending most of his days at the ranch, following the business he loved best. Luxury and ease were his had he desired to live an idle life. But he preferred to stay in the harness to the end.

In the death of Charles S. Hardy California loses one of its pioneers who made history in the state. As is often the case small dealers looking for easy money pestered him about the sale of the ranch. On one such occasion to one such dealer who asked if the ranch could be bought, he said: "Everything commercial is for sale. You can buy my boots if you got money enough. But you got to have more money than I think you and your backers have got if you buy this ranch and you have to show important money to even waste my time or yours talking about a sale."

CONTRASTS TO BE OFFERED AT BAND CONCERT

By RUTH ANDREWS

Two charming numbers from the works of the French dramatic composers, Thomas and Delibes, will provide graceful contrast to the famous Wagnerian masterpiece "Parsifal," chosen as a special feature of the concert program scheduled for presentation by Santa Ana Municipal Band under the direction of D. C. Clanton tomorrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock in honor of "Church Night."

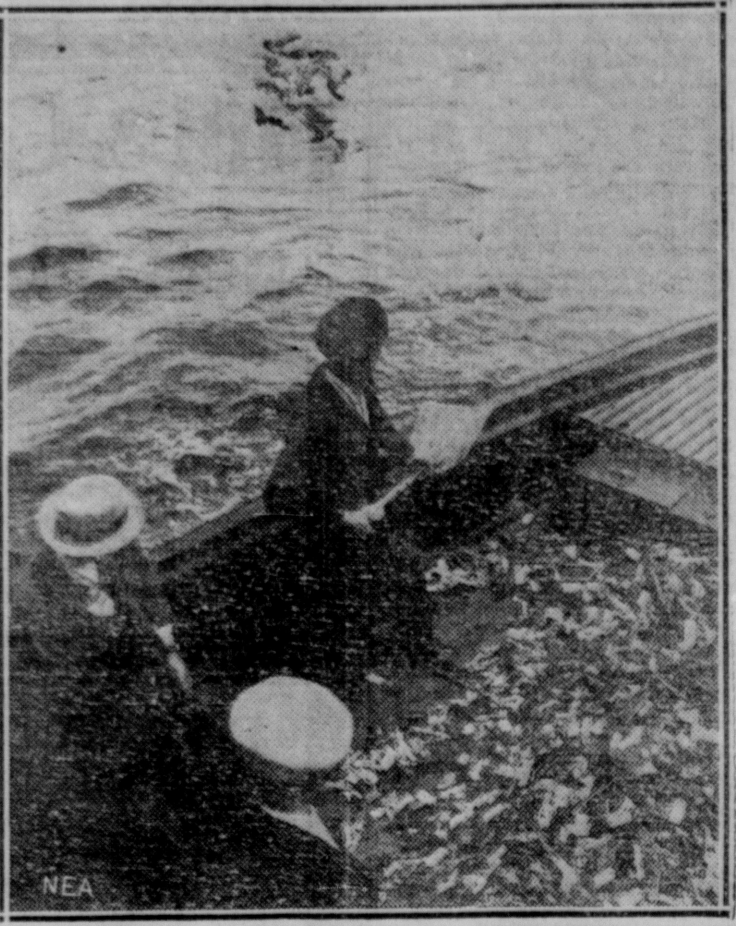

These will include the overture "Raymond" by Charles Ambrose Thomas, and an intermezzo, "Pas des Fleurs" by Leo Delibes. The former work was composed and produced by Thomas in 1851, fifteen years prior to his production of his famous operatic masterpiece, "Mignon," still a universal favorite in modern opera repertoire.

Delibes, composer of the intermezzo, "Pas des Fleurs," was one of the most distinguished French comic opera and ballet composers of the past century. He was born in St. Germain-du-Val, Sarthe, February 21, 1836, his death occurring in Paris, January 16, 1891. Delibes' best-known works include his romantic opera "Lakme," with exotic Oriental setting, also his charming ballets, "Sylvia," "Nella," and "Coppelia."

Though lacking intensity, Delibes' music is graceful, tender and melodious, evidencing skill in instrumentation. It is particularly

Brown Asserts God Interested In Men

GREAT THROG HEARS TALK ON MARRIED VESSEL

"You find God down in the glorious everyday tasks of the multitude," asserted John Brown in his revival meeting last night before a crowd which filled the large tabernacle on South Broadway. Taking as his text the 10th chapter in the book of Jeremiah the evangelist delivered a message which was enthusiastically received by the congregation.

Large delegations from Fullerton and Tustin had special sections at the services last night. "I Want My Life to Tell for Jesus," was the selection which was given by the Arkansas Travelers, male quartet. Eldon Farrar, choir leader played a trombone solo, "The Old Rugged Cross." The Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan of the First Christian church delivered the evening prayer.

"George Lott and the Lott Family will be the sermon for tomorrow night, it was announced. The revivalist took three points out of the text and expounded on these. They were: "Go down to the potter's house;" "The vessel was marred in the hand of the potter;" and "He made it again."

This message for which God was fitting Jeremiah involved Christ and the so called Christian nations, said the evangelist. "If God called you to a certain spot where He would give you a message wouldn't you be amazed if He said, 'I have this message for you, go down to the garage or drug store or barber shop.' But there is just where you will find God today, in the ordinary walks of life."

"Go down to the potter's house where God is and stop thinking about being a Moses in a six weeks' correspondence course. Moses was tending flocks when he saw the burning bush, Abraham was in his tent when he beheld the vision, David was with his father's sheep and the disciples were mending their nets. They were all engaged in the ordinary tasks of life."

Jesus Went to People
"I haven't a word to say against the Easter service and I think it is a wonderful thing, but when they try to make a spectacle out of a service there will be no spirit of Christ. Jesus left the mountain top and went down where there was misery and suffering of the multitudes."

"A lot of us are wishing we could get to the mountain tops to find God. My message to the world is not to go up but go down to the potter's house. "The idea of skeptics saying that the whale couldn't have swallowed Jonah because a whale's throat is too small is absurd. My conception of the deity is that God can do anything. I believe in the sovereignty of God."

"As the clay is in the potter's hand so are we in God's hand. Infinite love is turning the potter's wheel and if the vessel is marred, love marred it."

"Our household was marred by death," said the evangelist speaking of his own family. "Like a clap of thunder out of the sky came death to our house. The call came and the one that we needed most slipped away from us. People in consoling with us said that God didn't do it, but how would I feel if I believed that?"

God Knows
"There is nothing that can touch your life without God's knowledge. God is uniting all ends to culminate in your eternal good and all will come out right in the end. You may think that the devil has you down but some of us need to have the devil after us for awhile. God is in your home."

"Are you married? It is all right if you are in the potter's hand. While you can't understand now, God knows what he is doing."

"When God takes you, as a broken vessel and remakes you, you may soar to heights you have never dreamed of before. Those who have had their own hearts broken are the ones who can comfort sufferers. Too many of us believe that if we have been marred there is no hope but God can remake you to greater service."

"Sam P. Jones broke and became drunk after becoming a Methodist preacher and was made again through the spirit of God. The very tragedies through which you have passed will make you greater in the service of God."

"As long as God lives there is hope for broken lives and broken vessels. God can take your broken pieces of human clay and remake you perfect again."

"Love is turning the potter's wheel and all things are working together," said Brown in his final appeal.

The directors will meet Monday evening, July 20, at 7:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce and elect new officers.

Register Thanked By Evangelist

Appreciation for the co-operation of the Santa Ana Register was expressed last night by Evangelist John Brown in his opening remarks at the great revival meetings he is directing.

"I know what the co-operation of the Register means for a cause like this and I am thankful for the whole-hearted help which the Register is giving us. These meetings would not enjoy the huge success which they have if the Register had not opened its columns in our cause, the evangelist said."

"Some of us might do well to drop another paper and subscribe to the Santa Ana Register," Brown asserted.

BROWN GROUP TALKS AT DETENTION HOME

Several members of the John Brown revival party put on a program at the Orange County Detention home this afternoon.

The Arkansas Travelers, famous boys' quartet, gave several numbers. Helen Randel Keech, pianist, was also a member of the group. Eldon Farrar, choir leader and noted soloist, gave several vocal selections. Following the musical program, Mrs. Eldon Farrar delivered a message to those in the home.

because it
"looks like Kotex"

MANY substitutes look like Kotex. But few offer anything like the strict, hygienic purity of Kotex... the pad that's bought by hospitals in enormous quantities.

This health protection should be your first concern in selecting a sanitary pad. You have it in Kotex. But how about those unknown substitutes, of whose makers you know nothing? How are they made? Where? Would hospitals sanction them? Would you, if you knew their origin?

Why take chances, ever? Kotex is available everywhere... just insist on genuine Kotex.

Kotex is wonderfully soft. It is treated to deodorize. Adjustable. Disposable. Wear it on either side.

HARMONY TRIO INCLUDED IN KREG PROGRAM

The Foster Sisters, popular harmony trio, are featured on tonight's broadcast from KREG. These three girls, Mary, Margaret and Frances, are well known to fans for their previous programs from KREG and their program tonight is expected to prove popular. Art Cannon, KREG studio pianist, will also be heard on this feature program from 8:30 until 9 p. m.

The Rainbow Ramblers, peppy local dance orchestra, will be on the air by remote control from the Rainbow dance hall in Santa Ana from 9:30 until 10:30 o'clock on tonight's entertainment lineup.

Art and Glen, presenting a musical interlude, will broadcast from 9 until 9:30 p. m. Art and Glen are better known to KREG fans as Art Cannon and Glen Hayhawk, piano and musical saw artists. Mrs. W. H. Haddon will continue her series of auction and radio station lessons from the Santa Ana radio station tonight from 8 until 8:30 o'clock and Art Cannon will present his prize "Sticker" program from 7:30 until 8 p. m.

The Boy Friends, Chuck Hill and Art Wilson, presenting 15 minutes of popular song hits, are on the air from 7 until 7:15 and Oscar and Ruth, featured KREG comedians, will broadcast another of their humorous series from 7:15 until 7:30 p. m. The Texas Cowboys will be heard from 5:30 until 6 p. m., local and telegraphic news events read from 6 to 6:15 p. m. and the Shopper's Guide program comes from 6:15 until 7 o'clock tonight.

Watch and wait for P-e-t-e-r-s-o-n's famous SHOE SALE starting FRIDAY!—Adv.

This Program Should Attract Bridge 'Fiends'

Again KREG presents a treat to Orange county bridge fans tonight from 8 until 8:30 p. m. Mrs. William H. Haddon, who is regarded as an authority on this popular indoor sport, will continue her series of lessons of both auction and contract bridge tonight.

Bridge "fiends" are urged to phone or write their game problems to KREG and Mrs. Haddon will answer questions over the air. Now's the time to learn how to keep from trumping your partner's ace. The hand Mrs. Haddon will explain tonight was printed in last night's edition of the Register. This authority plays and explains a new hand over KREG every Wednesday night.

Popular Team To Present Comedy

Oscar and Ruth will continue their popular broadcasts from Station KREG today from 7:15 until 7:30 p. m. This favorite team presents a comic skit dealing with the adventures of Oscar, from Minnesota, and Ruth, a girl with big ideas. Their broadcast daily from Santa Ana station is one of the outstanding features on local programs.

Dorothy McCune, KREG pianist and vocalist, assists Oscar and Ruth in their fun making, along with Ted Newcomb, KREG program director. For the information of fans, Oscar is played by Freddie Dean, KREG continuity manager, and Ruth Murdock plays Ruth.

OFFER PRIZE ON 'STICKER' PROGRAM

Another opportunity for KREG listeners to win a valuable prize will be offered by the Woodruff-Granas jewelry company in Santa Ana, when Art Cannon, KREG studio pianist, presents his popular "Sticker" program today from 7:30 until 8 p. m.

Fans are urged to phone their requests to 4909 at any time preceding or during this broadcast. The first popular song hit phoned in that Art is unable to play will win the prize. Prize winners during the past few weeks have phoned in late song hits that the popular pianist has been unable to obtain. Nothing but popular music will have an opportunity for the prize, it was announced today.

BEHIND THE MIKE

The "Mr. Traveler" who has been reading news events to KREG listeners for the past two or three nights is none other than Eldon Smith, chief technician for the broadcasting station.

Believe it or not, Ted Newcomb, program director for KREG, sang last night. A parody on "Among My Souvenirs" was the object of his assault. What are these radio announcers coming to?

Dot McCune, KREG entertainer, is moaning low these days. Aside from her accomplishments as a composer and pianist, Dot sings every once in a while. She has one of those crooning voices—in other words a female Rudy Vallee.

The Foster Sisters, who will be heard from KREG from 8:30 until 9 p. m. today, refuse to have their phone number given over the air. Of course, anyone who has seen the Foster sisters would realize that once it were given the busy signal would be the usual occurrence at the Foster home.

LAMENTATION
It will be 10 years or more before another national championship tournament is pitched on the sun-scorched fairways of Inverness. Judging by the damage wrought by a stampeding gallery that watched the overtime battle this year, it will take 10 years to get the course in shape again. Ten years will not be too long.

Ten years will not be too long for the golf writers, either, I am told by some of the scribes who suffered there through five days of confusion.

IN THE GARRET
The understanding at the start of the tournament was that the newspaper tent was to be out around the fifth tee. This was changed, probably on behalf of hospitality and the newspaper writers were placed in a room close to the roof in a caddy house, a mile from the clubhouse and a good far five from the 18th green. The temperature under the roof was only about 112.

Scores were being garbled in transmission frequently, requiring changes after they had been sent over the wires. It was reported that on the first day there were nearly 40 changes made in the scorebook.

It did not matter a great deal to the reporters that the gallery was one of the worst behaved that ever witnessed an open championship. Newspaper men know how to where near the course, were unobtainable. The working press had to hire a taxi to get from the parking lot to Inverness proper. All of these conditions were reversed at the Scioto Country club at Columbus, scene of the western open, and at Dayton, where the Ryder cup matches were played. At both Columbus and Dayton there was efficient and courteous organization.

HILL-GARDENS PRESBYTERIANS WIN AT BOWL

Those Hill and Garden Clothiers are still the ones to whip for the Santa Ana City league baseball championship. They proved that anew in the bowl last night by overcoming a four-run lead and winning from Monroe's Pharmacy, 7-5, in one of the best games of the intermural season.

The Hill-Gardens won the first half of the split schedule without the loss of a game and their thrilling triumph over the Druggists was their second of the second half. It was accomplished on the strength of a seven-run rally in the sixth inning at a time when the Monroe squad was leading, 4-0. Hits by Sands, E. Seacord and Higashi, coupled with three Monroe errors and a couple of fielders' choices, produced the Clothier counters.

Wilson Seacord started pitching for the Hill-Gardens but was lifted in the second in favor of Fred Miller, who allowed only two hits the rest of the journey. The Presbyterians also served notice of their potency by beating the Santa Ana Moose, 6-3, in the curtain-raiser. The Moose finished second to the Hill-Gardens in the first half. Errors and bunched hits led to their downfall last night, the churchmen getting away on the wings of a three-run lead in the first inning and being never headed.

CHAMPS BUNCH BLOWS TO WIN HARD CONTEST

Sometimes figures lie, after all. Take, for instance, the ball game Santa Ana won from Fullerton, 8 to 4, at Fullerton last night. The box score might indicate a comparatively easy victory for George Lackaye's National Night league champions, but it wasn't easy. It was tough, as tough as nails.

The box score's figures don't reveal how Fullerton filled the bases on "Jumplin' Joe" Cornelius, the Stars' crack pitcher. In the ninth inning, now how in such an emergency Full Schrott rifled a drive into right field that had every appearance of a score-tying home run until "Rosy" Merrill, Santa Ana's great "money player," pulled it down for the third and final out.

As a matter of fact, Lackaye's Stars had to come up with their finest bunch-batting of the semester to win at all. Santa Ana got a flock of healthy hits off young Roy Hargis, Fullerton's 16-year-old hurler, and it was well that the bulk of them came when they meant something.

Two Runs Die at Plate
The Stars started business in the third inning, scored twice and had two other runs thrown out at home. Cornelius himself gave impetus to the attack by leading off with a left field double. Joe Mene beat out a bunt, putting Cornelius on third. Hill bounced back to Hargis who tossed Cornelius out at the plate on a close decision. Leavitt singled and Mene scored, but Hill was trapped between second and third on the throw-in. Hemus' wild throw to second let "Memphy" scuttle safely into third but he was out at the plate trying to score on a dandy throw to Catcher Curtis by Outfielder Dale Sheldon. Leavitt Dale raced all the way to third while this was going on and trotted home on Ed Daley's single to center.

The Stars felt pretty cocky with this 2-0 lead until Fullerton began bombing Cornelius all over the place in the fifth. Curtis led off with a double and scored on D. Sheldon's single to center. The latter went all the way to third. When Mene's throw home bounced into the bleachers back of the plate, Sorsabel's single tallied Sheldon with the tying run. Hargis' sacrifice and Hemus' infield out sent Sorsabel to third and he counted on Ward Sheldon's infield hit to Hill, putting the Hawks ahead, 3-2.

Stars Go Back to Work
So Santa Ana went back to work and pushed around three more runs in the next inning. Ed Daley singled, stole second and scored all the way from second on Merrill's infield single to Schrott. Scott's single sent Merrill to third. Scott's going to second on the throw-in. Cornelius then singled over third, scoring both Merrill and Scott, and putting his club in front, 6-3.

Sabella gave the faltering Poets only three scattered hits, one of them a lengthy home run to deep left field by McDonnell in the fourth inning which manufactured Whittier's solitary tally.

Anaheim got two runs in the fourth when Kohler walked, Preble sacrificed, Scholder singled infield and Kohler stole home. McDonnell's throw to the plate had Kohler but Catcher White dropped the toss and let Scholder go to third from whence he scored on Norton's single.

The Valentias got their other one in the sixth when Schuchardt and Kohler beat out bunts and Scholder singled.

CALIFORNIA N BID FOR MAJOR LEAGUE CAMPS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(INS)—California cities today were making a determined bid to take away the spring training camp business of the major league baseball clubs from Florida and other Southern states.

At least four clubs and probably seven will journey across the continent next spring to put their ball players through the paces under California's sunny skies.

Chicago, Pittsburgh, and New York on the National league, and Detroit of the American league have already arranged to train in California.

Cleveland in the American league and St. Louis and Brooklyn in the National league have already had scouts prospecting for suitable locations for their 132 camps somewhere in California with its 900 miles of coastline.

Cleveland, it is understood, will establish spring headquarters next year somewhere near Sacramento while Detroit probably will go 50 miles away from Stockton.

San Diego close to the California-Mexican border is trying to land the Brooklyn Dodgers while half a dozen cities are after the St. Louis Cardinals. The New York Giants will train near Los Angeles, moving out from Texas when they have encamped annually for years.

CARIDEO FIANCEE

They met last fall in South Bend. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

INJURY TO EYE PUTS CHAMPION OUT OF ACTION

BERLIN, July 15.—(UP)—German boxing fans were disappointed today over Max Schmeling's announcement he would be unable to defend his world's heavy weight championship until next year because of an eye injury received in his bout with Young Stribling.

The German fans, many of whom were skeptical as to Schmeling's right to the world's title, until he knocked out Stribling at Cleveland, July 3, had hoped their idol would decisively defeat Primo Carnera, their scheduled September contender to prove beyond all doubt that Schmeling deserved boxing's greater crown.

Schmeling, signed to meet Carnera in the United States in September, announced that Dr. C. Adams, prominent oculist, had ordered him to refrain from fighting or training "from two to three months at least." That will make it impossible for Schmeling to live up to the contract.

Schmeling dispatched the following cablegram to his manager, J. Jacobs, in the United States: "Dear Joe—Professors who examined my eyes in which Stribling stuck thumb say that the entire eyeball is affected as result of this being badly scratched. My do no boxing for a long time. If you better make arrangements come over as soon as possible. Professors were Drs. Adams and Baetner. Best regards—Max."

In his reply, Jacobs advised Schmeling that he would sail for Germany following the Sharkey-Walker fight Brooklyn, N. Y., July 22.

The eye injury was received, according to Schmeling, in one of the early rounds of the fight with Stribling accidentally stuck his thumb into the left eye.

OFFICERS HOLD BIG BENEFIT BALL GAM

SCHOOL PLUNGE REMAINS OPEN MONTH MORE

Santa Ana high school's plunge will remain open to the public another month, according to a decision announced today by Coach Clyde Patton, supervisor in charge.

The pool was originally opened for a month on trial but has proved so popular that it has paid all expenses in connection, the average daily attendance for the first month approximating 200.

With a nominal admission fee, the plunge is open every day but Sunday from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 9 p. m.

Every precaution is employed for the public's protection, Coach Patton disclosed. The complete volume of water is changed every eight hours, although there is constant circulation. The plunge floor is scrubbed, brushed, fumigated and sprayed daily.

Tests by Orange county health authorities disclose that the pool has a bacteria count of only 6 at the outlet and 2 at the inlet, although a count of 1,000 is allowed.

Beach to Newport and Balboa will be given an opportunity Saturday to witness a portion of the air show planned for next Saturday as a part of the dedicatory exercises of the army and navy bases at the Long Beach Municipal Airport. It was learned today. Army and navy planes from air fields and bases extending from San Antonio, Texas, to Seattle, Washington, will participate.

According to plans for the dedication which have been approved by high army and navy officials in Washington, D. C., the armada of more than 140 planes taking part in the event will leave the Long Beach airport and fly south as far as Balboa after the demonstration over Long Beach. Returning to Long Beach they will embark immediately for their home bases. According to those in charge of the dedication, the armada, in size, will be second only to the number of planes that flew over New York City in a recent demonstration.

The aerial show in Long Beach is scheduled to take place between 2 and 3 p. m. Saturday. Acceptances to participate in the show have been received from Rear Admiral H. E. Yarnell, aviation commander of the Pacific battle fleet, and from the commanders at Rockwell and March Fields, Kelly Field, Brooks Field, Mather Field, Salt Lake City, Portland and Los Angeles are expected to send large contingents. More than 140 planes will take part in the huge spectacle.

James D. Rolph Jr., California's flying governor, will deliver the principal address at exercises to be held on the beach and a program dedicated to the army and navy air forces is to be presented by the Long Beach Municipal Band.

HEALTH BOARD PUTS O. K. ON GETTING COAT OF TAN

The most fashionable thing the California girl can wear this summer is a healthy coat of tan.

Such is the opinion of the state board of health, which points out that sun baths are no longer in the class of "fads". They are healthful not only because they give the young lady the beneficial direct rays of the sun, but also because of the fresh air which is received regularly.

And with the beaches so close, Santa Ana and Orange county persons should find it easy to be "fashionable."

With the coming of summer, with its outdoor sports, such as swimming, tennis, golf, the sun bath is essential to build up resistance against bad colds and infectious diseases, the board says.

- In taking sun baths, it is well to keep the following rules in mind:
1. Expose the body gradually, starting with arms and legs.
  2. Start slowly with direct exposure to sun's rays for 10 or 15 minutes, increasing 5 minutes daily until the bath lasts one hour in the morning and one hour in the afternoon.
  3. Be sure that the exposure is carried on in some spot sheltered from the wind.
  4. Sun baths may be given on enclosed porches or in the house, provided the sun can shine on the bather unobstructed by glass.

Girls are warned against prolonged or sudden exposure to sunlight, as injurious or even dangerous sunburn may result.

STATE R. R. COMMISSION EXPRESSES OPPOSITION TO FREIGHT RATE INCREASES

That a horizontal percentage increase in all railroad freight rates is unsound and not justified by an existing emergency, that it would accentuate existing differentials at consuming centers and that it would disturb existing market conditions to a serious degree, are claims of the California railroad commission contained in a telegram sent to the interstate commerce commission.

The telegram requests an opportunity to present testimony in opposition to the granting of increased rates to the carriers in the form sought by them, and suggests San Francisco as an appropriate place for the session.

Commissioner William J. Carr has been selected by the conference of representatives of the Mountain-Pacific states at Salt Lake City to represent these states at the hearing in Washington, D. C., today before the interstate commerce commission. Rate expert William F. Geary of the commission, accompanied Carr to Washington to attend the hearing on the carriers' request for the 15 per cent increase. The California commission's telegram follows:

"Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C.:

"The railroad commission of the state of California, mindful of the needs of the carriers and of the distressing condition of shippers in California, many of whom are most vitally concerned with the cost of transportation of their perishable and other products to trans-continental markets, protests against permitting the carriers to publish a horizontal 15 per cent increase in all interstate freight rates and respectfully requests an opportunity to present testimony in opposition to the granting of relief to the carriers in the form sought. San Francisco is suggested as an appropriate place of hearing. This commission will endeavor to make its presentation in one day. Various interests in this state such as the deciduous fruit associations doubtless will also wish time to make their presentation. This commission expects to take a position along substantially the following lines and to support the same by appropriate testimony:

"First: That a horizontal percentage increase in all rates is unsound and is not justified by any existing emergency. It would accentuate existing differentials at consuming centers and disturb existing market conditions to a serious degree. If financial relief to the carriers through advance in rates is found to be justified and possible of attainment, such advance should take the form of an increase in cents per hundred pounds on commodities which can and will move under increased rates, thus leaving existing differentials unchanged. If increases are authorized, they should be limited in the first instance to rates which hold forth a reasonable hope of bettering the carriers revenue position.

"Second: That the publication, even though temporarily, of increased rates, which, because of competitive and economic conditions, obviously will have to be reduced to the present or lower level to hold any considerable business, would have an unfortunate and disturbing effect upon existing business conditions, and, by antagonizing shippers and diverting tonnage, likewise have a detrimental effect upon the carriers themselves. If increases are authorized, they should be limited in the first instance to rates which hold forth a reasonable hope of bettering the carriers revenue position.

"Third: That as to certain products in California moving to trans-continental points and which have been and are fruitful revenue producers to the carriers, of which fresh vegetables and deciduous fruits may be mentioned as examples, it is extremely doubtful if the volume of movement can long be maintained under present rates. Increases in the cost of their transportation will tend to contract movement and not better the carriers' earnings. This is no time to become panicky and launch upon policies likely to produce results the opposite of that which is claimed for them; and this commission, so far as time will permit, proposes to present evidence bearing upon the revenue possibilities and probabilities of advanced rates as applied to various products and commodities moving in volume from California to eastern markets.

"Fourth: That by the foregoing it is not to be understood that this commission is opposed to the granting of any relief to the carriers, but only opposed to the granting of relief which would unduly or unnecessarily disturb existing market and economic conditions or which is not reasonably certain to afford financial relief to the carriers. For your information this commission proposes to advise with various shipping groups in California and assist them in making their presentations, to the end that evidence on behalf of California interests may be co-ordinated and be brief and pertinent.

"CLYDE L. SEAVEY, president of the California railroad commission."

Memory Lane Tree Plans Submitted For Consideration

Blue prints showing proposed placement, type of trees, and the approximate cost of each type of tree which had been prepared by C. W. Hyde of the Orange county planning commission were submitted at a meeting of the Memory Lane association held Monday in Long Beach.

Plans were discussed for the next meeting to be held the second Monday in August at which time each organization represented in the association will be permitted to submit their choices on the type of tree desired to plant.

It was agreed at the meeting this week that any service or other type of organization or any individual would be allowed to buy a number of trees to be used in the planting.

Tentative plans call for a row of trees to be planted from Recreation Park in Long Beach to Irvine Park. The first unit will be planted from Recreation Park along Ocean boulevard to Garden Grove.

ARRANGE DEBT ACCORD BETWEEN U. S., FRANCE

Here are the men who, taking part in the Paris conference for a suspension of reparations payments, have reached "a complete basis for agreement between the United States and France." Left to right are: M. Petri, French minister of the interior; Prime Minister Pierre Laval; U. S. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon; Walter Edge, U. S. ambassador to France, at Mellon's immediate left; Aristide Briand, French foreign minister; Pierre Flandin, French minister of finance.

SUPERVISORS ASKED TO CUT
TAX RATE; TAXPAYER ASSN.
ALSO URGES CONSERVATION

A communication to the board of supervisors from the California Taxpayers' association urging a strictly conservative fiscal policy in preparation of the county budget for the coming year, and another from the Laguna Beach Realty board, suggesting a cut of 15 to 20 per cent in the tax rate, have called attention to the fact that property owners in Orange county are watching every possibility for relief from present business and financial conditions.

The Taxpayers' association letter said in part: "Supervisors of the various counties of California have the duty of considering and adopting the budget which will determine the tax rate on the property in their counties for the next fiscal year. The budget forms the guide for the expenditures of government. It tells us where we are and where we are going, so that we may know what to do and how to do it."

"General economic conditions prevailing at present and which have existed for the past year, are being taken into account by industrial and commercial organizations in the adoption of their policies for the succeeding year. This has resulted in almost uniform policies of definite retrenchment in proposed expenditures. It seems reasonable to expect that governmental expenditures should likewise show a recognition of existing conditions."

"The size of the budget determines the amount of public funds that shall be spent and it therefore fixes the tax burden necessary to supply these funds."

"The important question, whether the cost of local government in California shall continue to increase, or whether public expenditures will be retrenched to match existing economic conditions, will be decided by the various budget officials. This is a vital question to both officials and taxpayers."

ations also has been a motivating factor in this downward tendency.

In commenting to newspapermen yesterday regarding the tax situation, Chairman John Mitchell of the board of supervisors declared that while the board actually fixes the tax rate, in reality it has very little part in determining just how high or how low the rate shall be placed. The reason for this, he said, is because the board actually determines the amount of expenditures in relatively few cases. It handles the road money, the advertising funds and perhaps a few of the other small items, but the cost of operating the departments, the salaries and other running expenses are determined largely by the county government act, he said. Thus, the board has no choice in the matter. It must follow the law, he pointed out.

Elections, the expense of which is a mandatory obligation on the county, were cited by Mitchell as an example of expenditures which must be met.

He also called attention to assessment districts for various purposes, created at the request of the taxpayers, which he said are a very potent factor in keeping the tax rate up. Once created, these obligations must be met and the board cannot cut these tax rates even though it might wish to, Mitchell said.

UP IN SMOKE

SAXON, Wis.—Frank Bowers, 20, and Theodore Palmquist, 12, were brought before officials on a charge of stealing $20,000 from a mail sack. The boys said they were so terrified at the sight of so much money that they put it in a stove and burned it.

JOHN BROWN TO GIVE TALK FOR 20-30 GROUP

John Brown, evangelist, who is conducting a series of meetings in a tabernacle on South Broadway, will be the featured speaker at the meeting of the Twenty-Thirty club to be held next Tuesday night at Ketner's cafe. A motion that Brown be invited to address the club was unanimously passed at the regular meeting held last night.

One more boy in Orange county will be accorded the privilege of attending the official scout camp at RoKILL in the San Bernardino mountains for a week owing to the unanimous action of the Twenty-Thirty club last night in raising enough money by popular subscription to send one boy to camp. This action was taken following the reading of a communication from Harrison E. White, scout executive, asking that the club donate funds for the project.

Committees to serve for the ensuing six months of the club term were appointed by President Bill Winters last night. Following is a list of committee members appointed with the first named designated as chairman:

Classification and Membership: Verland Anderson, Tevis Westgate, and Fayette Bircher; Fellowship: Fred May, Ray Fisher and Lyman Farwell; Program: Hume West, Ernest Crumrine, Leland Finley, Bill Fernandez and Joe Ogle; Sleek: Arnold McKerley, Jimmie Underwood and Guy Penn; Finance: Ethan Louderback, Claude Reed and Paul Norman; Publicity and "Propeller": Kenneth Adams, George Bradley, Hugh Hicks and Hubert Gohres; Club History and Music, Dr. Ralph Murane and Dr. Horace Leeling.

A resolution favoring a move for local business men to go without coats during the warm summer months and to determine the position of local business men on the question was passed by the club last night after Bill Fernandez had suggested the idea.

Ethan Louderback, contact man for the national convention to be held in Long Beach September 4 to 8, inclusive, made a report on the convention and asked the support of club members in making the affair a success.

Hubert Gohres, captain of the Twenty-Thirty ball team, issued an appeal for better support from club members in coming out for the team. He called attention to the game to be played in the Olive Bowl tonight and asked that members of the team report at the field at 7 p. m.

FORMER RESIDENT OF
ORANGE IS KILLED

Mrs. Ethel Weakly, 23, 456 South Occidental boulevard, Los Angeles, a former resident of Orange, was instantly killed yesterday morning when she was crushed beneath the wheels of a large sand truck at Hoover and Sixth streets, Los Angeles. Mrs. Weakly, who was the wife of Alton Weakly, was graduated from the Orange union high school, six years ago and was married in that city five years ago. While in Orange she lived with her sister, Mrs. Lorin G. Moore, 402 Marietta Place. Mrs. Weakly formerly was Miss Ethel Cork. She came to California from Great Bend, Kan.

According to reports at the Los Angeles police headquarters, Mrs. Weakly stepped off of the curb directly in front of the truck which was driven by Gray Siuqueros, 5730 Bandera street, Los Angeles. The driver was not held. An inquest was scheduled for 1:30 p. m. today at the Los Angeles county morgue where the body was taken.

The body of Mrs. Weakly is to be shipped to Great Bend, Kan. from the Gilgolly funeral chapel at Orange. Mrs. Moore will accompany the body. Surviving the accident victim are her husband, Alton Weakly, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cork, of Great Bend, Kan., three sisters, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Floyd Ward of Great Bend, and Mrs. Claude Twist, of Topeka, Kan.

ANYTHING BUT DISHES

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Dirty dishes caused the downfall of one youth here. He was paroled recently in juvenile court on his plea of guilty to a charge of theft. He was arrested shortly after on the same charge. He said that he had to wash too many dishes and wanted to be put in the reformatory so he could escape the job.

SLOT MACHINE
OPERATOR QUIT
OF OWN ACCORD

The attitude of many Santa Ana merchants who formerly permitted operation of slot machines in their places of business prior to the time the illegality of these devices which was pointed out in an opinion of City Attorney Clyde Downing and the order of Police Chief Floyd Howard to cease operation, is illustrated in the position taken by the proprietor of a cigar stand on North Sycamore street.

This man recently came to the office of the Register and made the statement that he had turned the machine in his place of business to the wall as soon as he learned there was public opposition to the operation of the devices. At that time he declared he was a law abiding citizen and did not intend to be connected with any "business" that was contrary to law.

This attitude is evidently that of many other persons who formerly had slot machines on counters or stands in their shops or stores, for compliance with the edict of Chief Howard and the declaration of illegality by Downing is noted in a number of places today, despite the fact that a temporary superior court edict was issued yesterday restraining police and other city officials from taking further action against the machine or their operators.

A check of all places listed in the city clerk's office as having slot machine will be made tomorrow morning to determine those who are complying with desires of officials to clean them out and those who are allowing the machines to operate, and the list will be published in the Register tomorrow.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Communion services were conducted Sunday, in the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist. The subject of the lesson-sermon was "Sacrament."

One of the scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon related to Jesus' appearing to the disciples by the Sea of Tiberias after the crucifixion: "Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.... Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker

POLICE GET BAD CHECKS

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (INS) — Pennsylvania's state revenue department has what it considers one of the best "rubber check" collections in the east. During the first three months of this year, $108,670 worth were received from motorists in payment of license fees. Last year the department got about $90,000 worth. Makers of such checks are fined $5 each, irrespective of the amount of the paper.

Eddy, stated: "What a contrast between our Lord's last supper and his last spiritual breakfast with his disciples in the bright morning hours at the joyful meeting on the shore of the Galilean sea!" "This spiritual meeting with our Lord in the dawn of a new light is the morning meal which Christian Scientists commemorate."

Quiet Morning Wedding Completes Romance Of High School

Culminating a charming romance of youth and high school days was the quiet wedding Sunday morning of Miss Inga N. Onstad and Warren E. Sullivan which took place in the suburban home of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Glazner, who are close friends of the families united by the marriage.

Miss Onstad, who graduated in June from Polytechnic high school, wore at her wedding the graceful little silk crepe frock she had worn at her graduation. It was a lovely seafoam green model becoming to her fair hair and delicate pink and white complexion.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. Mr. Glazner at 9:30 o'clock and the only guests were the members of the two family circles, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sullivan and Russell Sullivan, parents and brother of the bridegroom, and the bride's mother and brother, Mrs. George Onstad and Henry Onstad, and Mrs. Glazner. Mr. Onstad was out of the city and could not attend his daughter's nuptials.

The young people went to Long Beach for a short stay, deferring a more extended honeymoon trip until later in the summer. Both are well known here, having gone through Polytechnic high school. Mr. Sullivan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sullivan, live at 1445 West Washington avenue, while those of his bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Onstad, live at 1017 Highland street.

Eastern Wedding Is Of Interest Here

Those who knew Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McClure and their daughter, Miss Emma McClure, when they lived in this city a few years ago, will be interested to learn of the marriage of Miss McClure to Elmer Lowe of Birmingham, Mich.

The ceremony was a quiet event of June 20 in Birmingham, where the young people plan to live. The bride attended high school in this city, and was graduated in 1925. She and her parents returned east some time ago after making their home here for several years.

BEAUTIFUL MARRIAGE RITES OCCUR IN LATE AFTERNOON

All the charm which music, flowers and the deep interest of family and close friends can add to romance, seemed to distinguish the wedding yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, of Miss Rose Marie Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Smith, 1717 North Broadway, to Calvin Charlie Flint, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Flint of Long Beach.

Only the closer friends of the two families, together with college friends of the young people, were bidden to the Smith home, whose spacious rooms were setting for the wedding. They found a striking decorative effect achieved by the use of dahlias and gladioluses in delicate rose tones, mingled with ferns and greenery. The wide fireplace in the drawing room was banked with ferns and palms, amidst which were placed quantities of the rosy blossoms, and it was there that the wedding party formed.

Appropriate Music
The musical program was especially interesting, opening with a string quartet composed of Elwood Bear, Edward H. Burns, Miss Georgia Bell Walton and Miss Peggy Warburton, playing Mendelssohn's "Andante Expressivo." This was followed by one of Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh's beautiful solo numbers, "I Love You," by Greg, its beauty completed by the piano accompaniment played by Clarence A. Gustlin.

The "Andante Cantabile" by Tschakowsky, was used as the processional, to which the bridal party moved to the improvised altar. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, took his place first, to be joined by Mr. Flint and his best man, Howard Reeve of Los Angeles, and Charles Frederick Smith, who gave his daughter in marriage.

Bride's Attendants
The two little maids who had assisted at the formal reception when the betrothal of the young people was announced, Dorothy Eley and Betty Anna Wilkinson, had prominent parts in the nuptials as well for they held the flower-garlanded ribbons that formed an aisle to the altar. Each wore a dainty ruffled frock of soft rose tones to conform to the prevailing flower colors.

Miss Helen Slabaugh, maid of honor, entered first, graceful and charming in tea-rose pink chiffon and lace and carrying a great cluster of rosebuds in slightly deeper tone.

Pretty Bride Enters
Miss Smith, in floating chiffon of embroidered design, was an altogether lovely young bride, the gown's simplicity of design being especially suitable to her cameo-like features and smoothly banded dark hair. A long veil of filmy tulle was caught cap-wise to her coiffure with clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried snow-white gardenias with a shower of lilies of the valley.

While the marriage vows were being repeated, Mr. Bear and Mr. Gustlin softly played Toselli's "Serenade," and when the young people knelt for the ministerial blessing on their union, Mrs. Slabaugh, with Mr. Gustlin at the piano, sang "Oh, Perfect Love" by Beigel.

The half hundred guests present offered their good wishes to the new Mr. and Mrs. Flint during an informal reception hour, when wedding mounds of ices were served with the bride cake, cut by the bride before she and Mr. Flint left for a southland honeymoon. When they left, Mrs. Flint was wearing a smartly tailored costume of chiffon in tobacco brown with short coat and hat in ink of the same shade and other dress accessories carrying out the one color theme.

Travel Plans
They expect to touch at different points of interest through the southland before leaving for the Smith summer home, Belle Isle, in the north channel of Lake Huron, where Mr. and Mrs. Smith and the latter's sister, Miss Preble Drake, will precede them by several weeks, as they are leaving tonight to go directly to the delightful spot. The young people will leave in time to be back in Atascadero for the September opening of the Moran School for Boys, where Mr. Flint is a member of the faculty and dean. He is a Stanford alumnus and a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. He spent a year in Paris as a student at the Sorbonne and in his European travels was accompanied by Howard Reeve, his best man at the wedding.

His bride attended Stanford summer school (which is where the young people first met) and the University of Washington, where she made journalism her major study.

Santa Anns Will Return to Big Bear
Mr. and Mrs. George S. Smith will return tomorrow to their cabin at Big Bear, following a few days' stay in their home at 216 French street. They have been spending the summer in the mountains, but motored down last week when Mrs. Smith entertained members of the Past Presidents' club, Daughters of Union Civil War Veterans.

At this time Mrs. Smith and Miss Minnie Cowan were co-hostesses in the latter's home, 214 South Sycamore street. Luncheon was served and a most enjoyable day followed.

INGENIOUS PROCESS STOPS VARIATION IN FLAVOR OF COFFEE

Wonderful Flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee Is the Same in Every Pound

Many people have wished for a coffee that didn't vary in flavor. Hills Bros. Coffee is such a coffee. It is roasted by the patented, Controlled Roasting process that absolutely prevents variation!

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the exquisite, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time.

Controlled Roasting is different from the ordinary method of roasting several hundred pounds at once. The results—as a cup of Hills Bros. Coffee shows—are very different! There is a refreshing smoothness that no other coffee has, because no other is roasted the same way. And remember, this marvelous flavor never varies!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans. Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale! Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

How To Make Your Hands Look Younger

Some time ago a reader of this column asked what to do for hands that looked old and wrinkled at 20. Comment was made on the question, not too helpfully, I regret to say. Today, I am publishing an excerpt from Miss E. A. C.'s letter telling about a special exercise to be used for correcting this fault.

"Some days ago a girl of 20 asked you about her hands. I have seen certain 'harmonizing' exercises do much to improve the looks of hands. The exercises I refer to are shown in the book issued by the Emerson College of Oratory (Boston). All the stretching exercises are good, but the last ones make greatest showing with the hands.

Stand erect; elbows close to sides; forearms, horizontal, in front; hands hanging loosely.

Shake the forearms up and down quickly and vigorously, which causes the hands to 'flip' freely up and down. (All the energy is in the forearms; none in the hands.)

Continue this exercise a short time; then, same position, whirl the hands, outward, in a circle (by the impetus of the forearm) a short time; then, inward in a circle then up and down again for the finish.

The large veins are likely to be reduced, and if the exercises are performed many times a day, the appearance of the hands will undoubtedly be improved.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Salmon Salad
1 pound can red salmon
1/2 cup chopped sour pickle
1/2 cup cream salad dressing
1/2 cup cracker crumbs
lettuce for garnish

First, chill everything. The salmon may be opened and picked apart earlier in the day but the final mixing should wait almost until the moment of serving.

The sour pickle can be any kind you like, chopped quite fine. If a sweeter pickle is liked you might try something like India relish, but drain off as much of the liquid as possible.

The cream salad dressing may be a cooked salad dressing smoothed down with sour cream whipped in the last minute, or it may be mayonnaise fluffed with stiffly beaten egg white.

Sour cream dressing would be very good for this salad. Just chill the cream, turn into a bowl with 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon drained horseradish, a little sugar, salt and cayenne. Whip well, add lemon juice or vinegar and use immediately.

Putting Salad Together

Arrange leaves of lettuce to form a cup on each salad plate. Toss the flaked salmon and chopper pickle together, pack into a cup to mould, then turn into the lettuce cups. Add the crisp cracker crumbs, rolled not too fine, to the salad dressing, pour the dressing over the mound of salad and serve at once.

There are six salad portions in this recipe, each with a calorie value of 335. Fats predominate, consequently this type of salad should appear as a main dish course for luncheon or supper.

JEWEL-TINTED JAMS AND JELLIES, the leaflet for the week, is offered free of charge if you will send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing purposes. This fine collection of recipes was offered last summer and as it is as complete as limited space allows, I am urging you to send for it if you do not already have it.

"A FREE SOUL" AT BROADWAY POWERFUL PLAY

"A Free Soul," Adela Rogers St. John's vivid story of a girl who was taught to live her own life, regardless of other people, now playing at the Fox Broadway theater, is one of the strongest pictures the theater has offered in the past several months.

With Lionel Barrymore as the father, Norma Shearer as the girl, and Clark Gable and Leslie Howard as the men in the film the cast is outstanding, but all real honors go to Barrymore, which is more or less of a Barrymore custom, for the work of this star in the picture is head and shoulders above all the others, including Miss Shearer.

The story is laid in San Francisco and based on the life of a girl and her father. The girl falls in love with a gambler and murderer. The father, a drunkard, makes an agreement with her to stop drinking if she will give up the gambler. The result is disastrous for both, but intertwined in this plot is a story of paternal love that is outstanding.

"A Free Soul" will be remembered here for some time as one of the best pictures of the year. It will cause an audience to stop and think—to wonder what present day morals are coming to and at the same time realize that the picture is good entertainment throughout.

Watch and wait for P-e-t-e-r-s-o-n's famous SHOE SALE starting FRIDAY!—Adv.

Lionel Barrymore, Norma Shearer and Clark Gable in "A Free Soul," mighty drama of morals which is playing at the Fox Broadway theater.

PAUL LUKAS IN 'WOMEN LOVE ONCE' STARTS

His work in "The Vice Squad" has merited for Paul Lukas the male lead in "Women Love Once," the Zoe Akins talkie, produced by Paramount, which comes to the Fox West Coast theater today.

Lukas has been steadily climbing upward in the ranks of featured players and he is now one of the leading favorites. It is a noteworthy fact that critics have never failed to credit him with artistic portrayals in every role he has essayed—in "Young Eagles," "Half-Way to Heaven," "Anybody's Woman," "The Right to Love," "Unfaithful," and a number of other earlier films.

In "Women Love Once" he is the central male character—an artist who makes a comfortable living at commercial work in the big city and lives in moderate but entirely happy circumstances with his wife, Eleanor Boardman, and their four-year-old child, Marilyn Knowlton.

The menace appears in the person of Juliette Compton, wealthy matron and patroness of the arts for the sake of her own affairs with artists. She persuades Lukas to go to Paris where his latent artistic temperament will find its "true soul."

Upon his return from Paris Lukas exhibits an attitude of coldness toward the loyal wife who had waited for him. A violent conflict with Miss Compton's husband further estranges Miss Boardman, who now realizes that her husband loves the other woman.

Further trouble comes to the little family when the child is injured in an automobile accident. The ensuing events lead to a happy and romantic climax.

MAGNET AN EYE SURGEON

ST. LOUIS, July 15.—A giant electro magnet, which removes metallic fragments from the eye, has been donated to the St. Mary's hospital here. The instrument is said to be the only one of its kind in the world. The electro magnet was recently used here to remove a narrow splinter which had become imbedded in the eye of a farmer from Southern Missouri. Treatment is now being given to a 5-year-old child in an effort to extract a piece of metal which has been imbedded in its eye for two years.

'LITTLE CAESAR' AT WALKER'S TODAY

"Little Caesar," the new First National picture now showing at Walker's State theater, gives a startlingly realistic impression of gangsters, from the lowest "rat," or petty thief, up to the "Big Boy," or heads of gangs.

The picture shows vividly the various social strata within crookdom. The petty thieves and pickpockets are seen in cheap rooming houses in the foreign quarter of a large city, while the big racketeers live a life of luxury, if not security, in the swankier residential sections.

The story deals with the rise of a gangster named Rico, played by Edward G. Robinson, from the level of a thug to a position as head of a powerful gang.

The feeling of safety at all times with regard to the family food more than outweighs all financial consideration for electric refrigeration the lady declares, to say nothing of the saving in actual food buying and the marvelous comfort and joy of many otherwise unobtainable delicious frozen dishes that Kelvinator affords the family. Kelvinator's 4-way cold makes it stand out as the leader in electric refrigeration.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAI COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The little sailboats sailed away. The crowd let out a great hurra, and everybody seemed real thrilled to watch the pretty race. Said Clowny, "Gee, I wish that I was on a boat. I'd surely try to bring my boat along real fast so I could cop first place."

"Ha, ha," laughed Coppy. "That's a joke. You're lazy and you always poke. How could you hope to win a race on either sea or land? If you could enter in a race of sleeping, you would set the pace. That sort of contest, I am sure, to you would be just grand."

The Travel Man then said, "Well, boys, you surely make a lot of noise in argument. Let's watch the race and see who's going to win." And so they sat and all kept still until there came a sudden thrill. Wee Scouty shouted loudly, "Look! A boatman's fallen."

One of the boats had tipped too deep and, with a very sudden leap, the water washed a sailor loose. He tumbled in the sea. The other boats kept on their way. 'Twas fun to watch them dip and away. "I'll bet I know," said Carpy, "who's the winner's going to be."

"That boat that flies the white flag will win unless it hits a snag." And he was right. That boat soon sailed across the finish line. The Tinies then went on their way, agreeing 'twas a dandy day. Said Coppy, "Every boatman handled his boat very fine!" They walked along the beach a mile. Then Scouty, with a happy smile, said, "Look! I see some kangaroos. I'll bet you they are tame. Let's walk right up where we can see. Don't be afraid. Just follow me. Be careful, though. To frighten them would really be a shame."

(The Tinymites watch a boom-crang thrower in the next story.)

ADOPT PROGRAM FOR DEDICATION MEMORIAL HALL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 15.—The committee on arrangements and program for the dedication of Memorial hall to be held July 18 met last night at the Legion quarters in Memorial hall and adopted the program. The committee consists of Sam R. Bowen, Herb Gray, Legion commander, D. T. Johnson, Verne Keller, L. E. Mitchell.

The twenty-first district meeting of the Legion will be held in Huntington Beach that day and the dedication program was fixed to conform with the district meeting. The district includes San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties. It was because of the district meeting that the date of the Memorial dedication happens to conflict with the date of the Tournament of Lights at Newport Beach.

Reception Committee
It is announced by the program committee that as many members of the Legion as can will be at Memorial hall prior to noon on July 18 to form the reception committee to meet visiting Legionnaires and guests. The guests will be taken care of at the luncheon hour.

The dedication of Memorial hall will start at 2 p. m. July 18. There will be music by the orchestra while the guests are being seated. Bill Curmott will be in charge of seating the distinguished guests to the stage. Lewis W. Blodgett, chairman of the dedication program will call the meeting to order. Attorney Blodgett will give a brief history of Memorial hall and will then turn the meeting over to Commander Herbert Gray of the Legion for the dedicatory program.

Use Legion Manual
Commander Gray will use the Legion manual for the dedicatory ceremony. Chaplain Harlan Reed will deliver the dedicatory prayer. The audience will join in singing the Star Spangled Banner. Dr. Ralph E. Hawes Roy K. Smith will lead the singing.

Commander Gray will turn over the savel to Chairman Blodgett who will introduce the distinguished guests and speakers.

Inspection of the new Memorial hall, one of the most beautiful and finest equipped Legion homes in the state, will follow the dedicatory program. There will be a dinner for the distinguished guests in the evening, the district meeting of the Legion to follow the evening banquet, starting at 7:45 p. m. The district meeting will be presided over by L. Burr Beldon, district commander.

There will be a public ball at Memorial hall beginning at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Plane Designer Addresses Club

FULLERTON, July 15.—M. C. Tunison, airplane designer and builder, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Fullerton Hawks, model aircraft builders, last evening in the club rooms, 410 Chapman building.

Tunison presented the third of a series of lectures which included principles of aerodynamics of interest and value to the boys in their program of model plane design and construction.

The official emblem of the club was shown to members last night by Dr. G. L. McClelland, adviser of the boys. The emblem will be placed on club ships and sweaters.

Boys in the high-performance type division are progressing in construction of speed planes which travel from 35 to 45 miles an hour. Members of the club practice with the flying of ships daily on the high school baseball field, testing various features which make for the success or failure of the flights.

AMENDED SEWER ASSESSMENT DISTRICT RECEIVES APPROVAL BY NEWPORT BEACH COUNCIL

NEWPORT BEACH, July 15.—The council in session Monday night adopted the amended sewer assessment district for the Central avenue sewer. The Lido Isle tract has been paying on the 20 acre tract for this assessment district, when six acres out of the 20 should have been assessed separately. Seven or eight assessments had been paid leaving a balance of about half the total still to be paid.

Under the new assessment plan the six acre tract pays its portion of the unpaid assessments and will also pay 75 per cent of the old assessments paid by the Lido Isle tract, the trust to be reimbursed. R. G. Briggs of the Newport Boat Builders, representing owners of the six acre tract, protested against paying back the assessments already paid. He explained that the people he represented had recently taken title to the six acres with the title abstract showing the assessments as paid. He was willing that the six acres be assessed for the unpaid assessment, but protested having to pay back those already paid and showing as paid when title was taken.

Paid for Error
Attorney Munroe of the Lido Isle trust explained that his clients had paid the previous assessments by error and that the revised assessment plan was arranged to correct an error. The point was argued at some length, but the council finally adopted unanimously the amended assessment district.

The matter of installing eight street lights in West Newport was referred to the lights committee for further investigation. The council in a discussion of the petition for installation of the lights, pointed out that the rate for electricity was higher than that charged for other street lights, the increased charge evidently being fixed to reimburse the light company for the cost of installation of the lights. The president that has been followed by the council, is that the districts shall install their own lights, and the city pays for the electricity out of the general fund. While the cost of installation of the eight lights is not large the council wanted a complete investigation before setting a new precedent.

Viaduct Petition
The matter of constructing the $200,000 viaduct at the arches, intersection of the Coast highway with the Newport-Santa Ana state highway, was again brought before the council by a petition in which all the service clubs of the city joined. The mayor and members of the council in discussing the petition urged the speeding up of the viaduct, stating that they were in favor of the viaduct and were merely awaiting word from the state as to what part of the cost the state would pay, in order to determine what cost would fall on the city. Secretary Cortes of the highway commission was out of the state and had not replied to the city's last communication regarding the apportionment of costs of the viaduct.

Charles W. Wilson, owner of a number of rent houses on the bay, complained in a letter to the council that bathers using the beach in vicinity of his property, between midnight and 3 o'clock a. m. were sometimes went in swimming without bathing suits, and disturbing his tenants. He asked the council to put a stop to the practice. The matter was referred to the chief of police, and the police committee of the council.

FULLERTON LIONS HOLD NIGHT MEET

FULLERTON, July 15.—The first night meeting of the Fullerton Lions club was held Monday evening in McFarland's cafe, the change in sessions being from Tuesday night to Monday evening. Entertainment with music and dancing featured the program for the evening.

During the short business session, club members pledged a general attendance at the next county council meeting at Laguna Beach, July 20. The members will leave Fullerton in a group at 6 p. m.

Ed Mahoney, Irish pianist and comedian, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening, presenting the program in which Miss Helen Thompson and Miss Ann Allison assisted.

Special songs and dances were provided by Miss Thompson and Miss Allison while Mahoney offered vocal selections, comedy sketches and impersonations as well as other entertainment.

William Gilmore was program chairman for the evening, introducing the entertainers.

The Halls, on vacation, came to San Clemente after visiting Death Valley Scotty's mystic palace in the desert, being guest of Scotty's for three days last week.

ANAHEIM NOT TO JOIN WATER GROUP

ANAHEIM, July 15.—On a motion passed by the city council last night when they met in regular adjourned session in the city hall, City Attorney George Holden was instructed to draw up a resolution informing officials of the Metropolitan Water District that the City of Anaheim had decided not to make application for any part that could be obtained from the Boulder dam. John Price, city manager, declared that this step was to be taken following a thorough investigation made by the council as to relative costs in bringing the power to Anaheim and the costs of maintaining the city's power house on South Los Angeles street.

Fred H. Kessel, member of the council, was re-appointed to serve on the library board for the next term.

The council passed a motion authorizing the city to donate a sum of $200 to Company "K", Anaheim unit of the 15th Infantry of the California National Guard, to be used as a mess fund when the company leaves for summer camp at San Luis Obispo Saturday. Major Don Winans, who is in charge of the company, was present at the council meeting and made an appeal for the money.

No action was taken in the matter of awarding a contract for city garbage at the meeting last night. Two men, representing a firm that handles the garbage output from several nearby towns, were present and asked the council if they could enter a bid on the garbage. Mayor L. E. Miller declared that the city had handled the garbage in the past and that the move was new to members of the council and postponed action on the matter until the next meeting.

Rooms Sought for Lodge Delegates

FULLERTON, July 15.—Plans for housing delegates to the Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows order in Fullerton for the week opening October 11 were being worked out today following an appeal of the committee in charge for rooms for delegates which are expected to number more than 2,000.

Harry Bell is in charge of arrangements for the housing of delegates and announced that the committee is to allow $1.50 per day for single rooms and $2.00 for double rooms.

Co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and other community organizations has been extended to the Odd Fellows in preparing for the encampment during the second week in October.

Rites Held For Anaheim Pioneer

ANAHEIM, July 15.—Impressive funeral services for Henry Leuthe, 69, who had been a resident of Anaheim for the past 21 years until his death Sunday night, were held this morning from the chapel of the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral home. The Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, officiated at the services.

Palbearers for the occasion were Bernhard Schroeder, Claus Ott, George Clodt, Henry Moenish, Fred Gunther and Henry Meierhoff. Interment was made in the family plot in Fairhaven cemetery.

DATE CULTURE IS TOPIC FOR ANAHEIM TALK

ANAHEIM, July 15.—Outlining the methods followed in raising fancy dates, E. F. Shields, who has addressed practically every service club in California and many other states, spoke to members of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon when they met in the Elks club house for their regular weekly meeting.

Shields explained the methods of irrigating the trees, declaring that they needed more water than most any other type of tree, it being necessary to irrigate them every 10 days with an annual outlay of water amounting to about 10 acre feet. He pointed out that a new variety of date was created from every seed planted, this being the reason why he propagated his trees from offshoots that appear at the bases of the trees every year. He has 119 varieties of dates in his gardens in the Coachella valley. Pollination, harvesting and other problems of the date industry were also explained to the club members.

Educational Program
Dr. Homer Nelson was program chairman of the day with President John Prince presiding over the meeting.

The Kiwanis club has established a definite policy of educating members on the Metropolitan Water district problems, and at each meeting a designated amount of time is spent in answering questions prepared by Leo Sheridan, chairman of the citizens' committee on educational matters pertaining to the district. President Price has made plans to make a large illustrated chart showing the drop in the water level in the Santa Ana Valley basin with comparative data on the ocean level.

Depth Increases
He declared that while the average depth necessary to drill for water in 1907 was 45 feet, at the beginning of this year it was 130 feet and at the present time was 155 feet. He explained that if the level of the water in the basin should fall below the level of the ocean, the reservoir would be in great danger of pollution by the salt waters.

BUSY SUMMER FOR CAPISTRANO BOYS

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 15.—The local Boy Scout troop, under the leadership of Acting Scoutmaster Harold Case, has had a summer filled with various scout activities, which have been climaxed by two outstanding events in the history of the troop.

The vacation trip to Camp Forest Home, in the San Bernardino mountains, which has been planned for some time, is to be started Wednesday, with the following Scouts making the trip into the big woods: Freddie Stoffie, Freddie Hunn, Pancho Forester, Myron Guilbert, Allen Tyler, Aceno Avila, Billy Quakenbush, Chet Lopez, Don Pierce and Harold Case, scoutmaster, in charge.

Last Friday evening the second court of honor was held at the Scout camp, "Idle Hour," on San Juan creek, near the beach. The Scout committee, consisting of the following local business men had charge of the affair: O. J. Guilbert, Harlow Halladay, Guy Williams, Roy Tyler and John Malcom. More than 100 people were present to see the Scouts receive merit badges. Freddie Stoffie, Myron Guilbert and Allen Tyler received their first class awards, and Freddie three merit badges as well. Pancho Forester received his tenderfoot badge, as did Don Pierce and Aceno Avila.

Following the court of honor, the Scouts served ice cream and cookies to their guests.

ANAHEIM 20-30 CLUB INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

ANAHEIM, July 15.—New officers were installed at the regular weekly meeting of the Twenty-Thirty club held Monday night in the Elks club house. Clinton Griggs, retiring president, gave a brief speech, commending past officers and committee members on the work they had done in the interest of the club during the past term and pointed out the duties and responsibilities of the new officers. A special feature of the evening was the presentation of a diamond-studded past president's pin made to Griggs by Wayne Lauderback, incoming president.

Officers Seated
In addition to Lauderback, new officers installed were Francis Elliott, vice president; Earle T. Jackson, who was re-elected as secretary; David Wagner, treasurer; Fred Piepenbrink, sergeant-at-arms, and directors, Wilmer Troutman, Archie Henry, Arthur Jensen and Carl Wollenman.

Featured as the speaker of the evening was E. F. Shields, who announced himself as the "man who had more dates than any other man in the world." Shields is a grower of fancy dates in the Coachella valley and described methods of culture, irrigation, propagation and harvesting of dates. He showed a series of colored photographs depicting his date garden and some of the famous trees in it. He invited members to visit the garden when they were in the vicinity of Indio.

C. OF C. BOARD TO GET REPORT ON FINANCING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 15.—President Willis Osborn of the Chamber of Commerce announced at the meeting and luncheon of that organization Monday noon at the Golden Bear cafe, that the directors meeting to be held on Thursday night of this week would be presented with the financial statement of the organization and other matters of importance and urged all members of the board to attend.

It was announced at the meeting that Joe E. Brown, noted comedian of the talkies, had written Jack Robertson, manager of the Huntington Beach night ball league, asking for a date for a game here between the Joe E. Brown team of movie stars and Jack Robertson's Huntington Beach team. Robertson will arrange the game for an early date. The attraction will bring a big delegation of fans from Hollywood and plenty of local support, as the home team is going good now and is playing to crowds that fill the hall park to seating capacity. The fine new baseball grounds constructed here by the city council attracted the Joe E. Brown team to this city, it was stated.

Harvey S. Young mentioned the Tournament of Lights at Newport Beach and urged its support here, asking why the dedication of Memorial hall had been set for July 18, the date for the Tournament of Lights. He praised the big Lights program to be staged at Newport, and expressed regret at the conflict of dates. It was explained by Commander Gray of the Legion and by L. E. Mitchell, Legion member, that the twenty-first district convention of the Legion was to be held here the night of July 18 and that the dedicatory program was fixed for that date as there will be many distinguished Legionnaires here for the convention.

a daughter and club members voted to start a bank account for the new addition to the Wilmsen family. Plans were discussed for the participation of the club in the national convention to be held in Long Beach September 4 to 6, inclusive. The club voted to obtain a double room in a hotel in Long Beach, to be used as headquarters for the club during the convention.

Two Claim Bicycle
Harold Mosman, 538 South Helena street, yesterday claimed a bicycle that had been reported stolen by a Mexican youth, Frank Vegas, who also came to the police station to claim the bicycle. Mosman reported his bicycle stolen on May 27 and it had never been found. Vegas claimed that he had traded an old bicycle in and had purchased the one claimed by both parties. Police are holding the vehicle until definite claim is established by one or the other.

ing the following months the meeting date will be the fourth Monday evening at 6:30 with dinner served in the social hall of the church.

Announcement was made that Lieutenant Governor Frank Merriam of Long Beach, who was the scheduled speaker at the meeting and could not fill his engagement on account of the recent death of his wife, would speak at one of the meetings later in the fall.

A JUDGE ENJOINS PEACE OFFICERS

Yesterday Judge Freeman, from Riverside county, sitting on the superior court bench, issued a restraining order against the city officials of Santa Ana, enjoining them from doing what they believed to be their plain duty, in the closing up of what they considered to be illegal slot machines operating in this city.

This is a most unusual procedure, under any circumstances, for a court to restrain peace officers from enforcing the law as they understand it.

We know of only one similar case. This happened two years ago in Cuyahoga county, Ohio. A judge issued a restraining order there, forbidding the sheriff from interfering with a certain gambling program at a race track. This gambling was done under the guise of being within the law.

The sheriff, as a matter of fact, refused to obey the injunction, and said he knew they were violating the law. One of the Cleveland papers, notably The Cleveland Press, wrote very severe strictures on the court.

The men who wrote the stories were cited for contempt. They retained Newton D. Baker and some of his partners as attorneys, and later in a notable opinion, the provisions of which will be published in The Register, as we have just wired for them, the newspaper men were entirely vindicated and the judge condemned.

At the time, however, that this occurred, The Register printed the following editorial, which is quite apropos:

No newspaper should permit its readers to pass over lightly the story of the public service rendered by two Cleveland newspaper men who were fined $500 and sentenced to thirty days in jail for fighting against a race track gambling ring. Judge Walther of Cleveland issued an injunction to prohibit Sheriff E. J. Hamratt from interfering with the Thistledown race track, where the anti-gambling laws were being circumvented. In spite of the Judge's order, Sheriff Hamratt closed the race track, pointing out that he was not prohibited from taking such action if the betting system in vogue was illegal. The sheriff acted, however, only after the press had repeatedly carried articles denouncing the race track and its officials. After the race track had been closed, the newspaper carried several editorials denouncing the injunction action of the judge and supporting the action of the sheriff in closing the Thistledown race track.

Then the judge had the two editors, Louis B. Seltzer and Carlton K. Matson, cited for contempt of court and sentenced them, declaring that the court had inherent authority to determine whether contempt had been committed.

"This case," said Attorney Marcellus de Vaughn, associated with Newton D. Baker in defending the newspaper men, "is of far larger moment than in its relationship to Mr. Seltzer and Mr. Matson. If Judge Walther's decision is upheld by the highest courts—and we shall carry appeal to the United States supreme court, if necessary—it will mean that any judge may issue an edict that is shamefully contrary to the public good and that the newspapers may not inform the public of the terrible wrong that is being done to them."

In a statement which the two editors, prepared for the press, they said:

"The principle for which we were fighting was that of justice. We made our comment in what we thought was the furtherance of justice, not its hindrance.

"This is a plain case of the freedom of the press to criticize court orders which it regards as lawless. The order which was the crux of the case before Judge Walther in common pleas court was an order which purported to restrain an officer of the law from doing his plain duty.

"Journalism is still a profession. Considerations of right and honor make it that. There comes a time when a word of common honesty, without consideration of hazard, is the greatest contribution a newspaper can make to its community.

"... For the right to speak that word, we have fought and we intend to fight. Newspapersmen everywhere in this country would do the same thing.

"In every city room, in every editorial office of the country, the conflict against the newspaper expression goes on. The newspaper always faces the pressure which demands suppression.

"If fact or comment can be easily suppressed, can be suppressed at all, the usefulness of the newspaper as an organ of public opinion, is gone.

"If fact or comment upon one matter, whether it be news of public events or proper comment upon the activities of courts can be suppressed, any story or comment is likely to be suppressed.

"If such comes about, the clear vision and sense of obligation to the public of the newspaperman becomes obscured. The newspaperman then is no longer a newspaperman; he becomes only a pamphleteer with a private interest to serve.

"In this conflict over suppression, there comes the time when the newspaperman has to be the final judge. He has to meet the issue that the statement of a fact and the comment upon that fact is his obligation to his community.

MR. WITMER A REAL TRUSTEE

We desire to commend Councilman Paul Witmer.

Paul Witmer is the councilman who takes the principle of keeping down expenses by the city seriously, and thereby does his part against the rise of taxes.

There is the disposition, on the part of many groups in Santa Ana, to ask for money from the city treasury for almost every conceivable purpose. Sometimes it is to pay the way of delegates to some convention; sometimes it is for banners; sometimes it is for rentals of private organizations; sometimes it is for one thing, and sometimes it is for another; sometimes the amounts are small; sometimes they are large, but every man who has any experience in business knows that the aggregate of small amounts means large amounts.

Is it not a fact that the general belief is that you can get money out of a public treasury easier than you can get it anywhere else? Should this be so? Should it not be more difficult to get money from the public treasury than to get it from private institutions?

Our councilmen are termed "trustees." They are not only trustees of an implied, but of a specified trust. The conception of public duty is that they should not follow their personal wishes, but the interests of the public.

We are glad to see that Mr. Witmer is voting in a manner that would retain money in the treasury for the purposes for which the law contemplates that taxes should be assessed.

Plays, Players and Critics

Christian Science Monitor

England pays attention to actors, America to plays. That is the chief difference between English and American theatergoers, according to George Jean Nathan, the American dramatic critic who is now visiting the London theaters as the guest critic of the Daily Express.

On the whole, Mr. Nathan appears to think that the American attitude toward the drama, the wisest of the two, for the United States, he says, is now beginning to develop a school of dramatists of first-rate ability, largely as a result of the fact that American critics give to the author the place of honor in the theater. On the other hand, Mr. Nathan would seem to suggest that the level of acting is higher in London than it is in New York.

Few would dispute that the author plays a most important part in the theater, but the English practice of criticizing the performance rather than the text of what is performed has more to be said for it than Mr. Nathan admits. It has not, as he would seem to imply, resulted in the production of only worthless plays. Even if this type of criticism does not do much to encourage dramatists, it certainly does them little harm, for the English theater, with Shaw, Barrie and Galsworthy, can, merely from the author's point of view alone, hold its own.

Moreover, there is a very sound reason why the tradition of English dramatic criticism dwells apparently so disproportionately upon the actor's share in a theatrical entertainment. The play, if it is of value, is always with us; we can take down Shakespeare at any moment and enjoy him; we need no literary (nor even dramatic) critic to point out or preserve his beauties for us. But with the actor it is different; his art is transient, a thing only of a single night. It has no longevity in itself, and unless it is captured and transferred to paper by the critic its great achievements are lost to posterity.

That is why Hazlitt, writing on Mrs. Siddons, is so much more fascinating than Hazlitt writing on "Macbeth." But the best criticism is properly balanced; and would show the qualities of both the American and the English varieties in their right proportions.

Don't Go to Dam

Imperial Valley Press

Without attempting to be in the least bit dictatorial, the Press advises residents of Imperial Valley from making a trip to Boulder dam site at this time.

The advice is inspired by numerous inquiries received in the office recently as to the desirability of making the trip.

In the first place, it is extremely hot at the dam site just now, and valley residents will find it even hotter than their home sector.

Accommodations at the dam site and Las Vegas, are still inadequate and unless arrangements have been made beforehand, one will find difficulty in obtaining lodgings.

Prior to turning on power at the dam site last Saturday, the active construction work at the dam has been held to a minimum. It has only really started this present week, and it will be some time before it is up to the maximum speed required to complete the contract on time.

We would suggest that anyone having an intention of visiting the project postpone their trip until the fall, when the weather will be more comfortable, better lodgings can be obtained and much more of the work seen.

There will be better roads at the dam site then also, something that does not exist now but they are in course of construction.

It is not likely there will be any more trips down the river as the work of diverting it through the tunnels has been started and such trips will hereafter be taboo.

There will be much more to see next fall and the valley resident will be better repaid for a trip at that time than he would by making it now.

There Are Limits

San Diego Union

Every nonstop expedition now tied up in an airport awaiting favorable weather conditions, new equipment, repairs or what-not, furnishes its own comment on the interesting nightmares of publicists who see the airplane as an instrument of terror.

Transoceanic surprise attacks are still a danger far in the future. A traveler landing in New York City the day Lindbergh did, could have crossed the Atlantic and returned again before the great aviator had completed all his preparations, crossed the ocean and landed in Paris. Before the fearful day under cover of secrecy, cross the ocean, obliterate New York and fly away again, at least a century of security still intervenes.

The enemy aviator cannot yet quite qualify for the role now practically abandoned by Beelzebub.

PRUDENCE

Whenever I meet with a bully,
I think, in my timorous style,
It's a fairly safe bet that the voice with the threat
Cannot cope with the voice with the smile.
But if he continues to bluster,
I do not get brazenly glib,
It is far more discreet to stroll up the street
And leave him to bluster, ad lib.
It's the man with no punch who is suave and polite;
The fellow who blusters will usually fight.

They say if one passes a lion
And looks at him straight in the eye
He will stand there and roar for a minute or more,
Then back off and let you pass by.
But if lions should happen to gather
On a trail where I happened to be,
Although armed with a gun, I should rapidly run
Till I found a tall sheltering tree.
And there I should hide in its deep leafy shade—
For the brute might not know that I wasn't afraid.

No man, and no beast, so they tell me,
Will do any more than to leer
His hate to display, should he chance by the way
With a person who harbors no fear.
Just show you are calm and untroubled
And go leisurely strolling along,
You might even smile in a casual way,
Or hum some short snatch of a song.
But I'd always be wary of picking a quarrel
With a man or a beast with the voice with the snarl.

If Wishes Were Horses

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

We have visited twenty states in the last two months. We are convinced that the chief world interest of these states is not in war debts, but in Russia; and the chief attraction of Russia is not Communism but the Five Year Plan. We, too, should have a Plan. Why not?

The protest against things as they are is no longer confined to wild-eyed orators in the public parks. In the West, at least, even the conservatives now know that they are suffering from too much reliance on our boasted individualism. They want aggressive, concerted action—action in accord with a National Plan.

Responding to this demand, Mr. Hoover says, "I am able to propose an American plan to you. We plan to build four million better homes and thousands of factories. We plan to grow 20 per cent more farm products, and to decrease poverty and secure a greater diffusion of wealth."

This is the most discouraging pronouncement which has come from the Federal Government since the business depression began, for it implies that the Government does not know the difference between a purpose and a plan. What Mr. Hoover calls a plan is no plan at all. It is merely a pious wish.

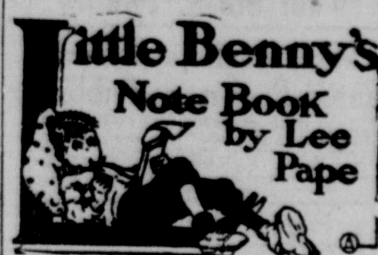

Of course we want better homes, greater production, less poverty, more leisure, and the rest. We wanted all that two years ago. Instead of that, we got worse homes, less production, more poverty, and the enforced leisure of several million jobless workers.

This purpose—which the Government mistakes for a program—is as old as the race. Two years ago, the Government failed to adopt, or even to propose, any plan for the attainment of that purpose. It merely issued Pollyanna bulletins. The result was disaster. Still the Government proposes no plan.

Russia has precisely the same purpose. Russia also waxes eloquent about this purpose. But Russia does not stop with oratory. Russia HAS a plan. Some like the plan. Some do not like it at all. But the least that anyone can say about it is that it IS a plan.

If wishes were horses, beggars might ride.

We was eating supper and mased to pop, had quite a conversation with old Mr. Shooster today, and leaving the question of money quite aside, the next time old lady Shooster broaches the subject of a possible future union between her little granddaughter Mildred and Gladness little Willie, she's not going to meet with anything but discouragement from me.

Do you mean to say the wedding is off? pop sed and mased. It's a question of heredity. Any girl with such a grandfather, I don't care if he has a dozen banks in his own name, has queer ideas in her family, and yow-genically speaking any such a union would certainly be the worst sort of yowgenics.

Le he a Bolshevick? pop sed and mased, I shouldn't be surprised at anything undesirable about him. We happened to be riding downtown in the same trolley car today and I took the opportunity to make a few apparently meaningless remarks to find out whether or not he really intends to leave little Mildred a fortune in his will when the suitable time comes. I broke the ice by remarking, "You certainly have a lovely little granddaughter, Mr. Shooster, and she's surely lucky to have a nice rich grandfather like you who can leave her so well provided for."

That was a nice meaningless remark, what did he say? pop sed, and mased. He replied in a cold voice, "Madam, any man who gives any female one dollar of superfluous money is an ignorant fool, money is poison to wimmin and I've always found that poor ones are the only ones worth looking at. And with that he turned a cold shoulder on me and berried himself in his newspaper, and now old lady Shooster will find me a deaf listener when she rattles on with her romantic ideas. The question of money has nothing to do with it, but I'm not going to allow any man with any such family traits to inject his cracked ancestry into my descendants, hand me the butter please, ma sed. Wich pop did.

OUR ECONOMIC BALANCE SHEET

The business prophets function today with less cocksureness than ever before, because so many of their prophecies have been knocked galley west during the last two years, but there is much careful analysis of the factors favorable and unfavorable to business recovery, and these analyses are helpful to the rest of us who must arrive at some judgment on the future as a basis for the making of policies in our business and our institutions.

Murray Shields and Bervard Nichols of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Pittsburgh have produced a comprehensive study of the prospects for business recovery in which they list the following favorable and unfavorable factors:

Among the factors favorable to recovery are:

- (1) The extensive liquidation in the securities market.
- (2) The low rate of production as compared to the normal rate of consumption.
- (3) The materially improved credit conditions.
- (4) The unusually low level of interest rates.
- (5) The extensive deflation in wholesale commodity prices.
- (6) The long period of reduced consumer purchases making it necessary for consumers eventually to reenter the market.

(7) The reduced inventories in the heads of retailers and wholesalers.

Among the factors unfavorable to recovery are:

- (1) The world wide pervasiveness of the depression.
- (2) The decline in the export demand for domestic products.
- (3) The widespread unemployment with a lowering of the morale and purchasing power of workers.

(4) The reluctance on the part of a population, convinced of the insecurity of its income, to make installment purchases.

(5) The necessity for further adjustment of overhead expenses in industrial and commercial concerns to the basis of lowered volume, a lower price level, and reduced profits.

(6) Numerous failures.

(7) The prospect for continuous stagnation in the machinery, equipment, industrial building, and allied lines because of the present excess of productive capacity in manufacturing industries.

(8) The violent disruption of price relationships.

Here is not prophecy, but valuable raw materials from which we can make our own prophecies. Copyright, 1931, McClure Newspr's Syn.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

"What is that you are reading?"
"A story book."
"Another story book? What is it?"

"Treasure Island. It's about a boy and a one-eyed man, a pirate and—"

"That's enough. A one-eyed man, a pirate. Nice company for a boy your age. I must say. Where did you get it?"

"From the library. The librarian said it was one of the best books ever written for boys. And the teacher said so too. And anyway I'd have to read it for the next year because it is one the reading list."

"O, that's different. It's a USEFUL book. Why didn't you say so? Just the same pirates and one-eyed men—I wish they would stick to regular things. Schools are doing things that to my mind just needn't be done. Have you learned that list of dates yet?"

"No. I haven't looked at it since school closed."

"Well, you'd better. They're useful. You have to know them to pass. If I were you I'd put away that story book and learn those dates."

"If I do that, mom, I'll have to learn them all over again for the test because I'll forget all about them the day after I learn them. Just before examinations I'll learn that list, use it the day of the test and forget it."

"Why don't you forget the story book? You knew all about that? I'll be astonished if you pass any examinations next fall with all this reading and foolishness. I wish you'd learn your lists and things."

"Oh, I'll do them all right. Don't worry. But I have to read a book or two, once in a while. A fellow ought to be able to do something he likes to do once in a while."

What is useful? Often I wonder as I see children walking through the corridors of the school building studying lists of dates, lists of names, battles, cities, words, what good the learning will do them. Some children will never be able to get anything worth while out of high school, and for them college would be a useless idea. Their work lies in the activities of industry. They will buy and sell, build, push, pull and carry; work machines, lay tracks, do the thousand and one useful things that must be done. Just what subjects

In the school are useful to them? The selected group of specialists—musicians, artists, actors, doctors, all these highly qualified people, what in education is useful to them?

For all children there is a common education. They all need to know how to read. Reading is more than calling the words. It is the ability to gather ideas from printed words. All children ought to read as well as it is possible for them to read. This is highly important—and extremely useful. They need some number work, the simplest forms of arithmetic. They need a hobby, a vocation, and a background enriched by whatever of beauty their eyes can see, their ears comprehend. What is useful to some is of little value to others.

Hold fast to these for they are useful throughout life: An open, questioning mind; imagination; skill of some sort; desire to live fully. Whatever helps any of these, that is useful.
